(12) All Ballot Papers shall be returned to the Returning Officer, c/o the Post Office Box named on the Business Reply Envelope. The Post Office Box to which the Ballot Papers are to be returned shall be hired by the Returning Officer prior to the despatch of Ballot Papers or if the Box has been previously hired, he shall cause the lock to be changed.

The key to such Box shall be picked up by the Returning Officer at a time, reasonable notice of which has been given to the Scrutineers, and deposited with the Bank at which the Branch Account is held.

The Returning Officer shall each day, at a time reasonable notice of which has been given to the Scrutineers pick up the key to the Post Office Box from the Bank in which it is deposited, collect the returned Ballot Papers from the Post Office Box and deposit them in the Ballot Box. Such Ballot Box shall be kept at the Bank at which the Branch Account is held for the time being, and shall prior to the commencement of the ballot, be held by the Returning Officer and may be sealed by any Scrutineer. After placing the Ballot Papers in the Box, the key to the Post Office Box shall be deposited at the Bank. The Ballot Box shall be picked up by the Returning Officer at a time, reasonable notice of which has been given to the Scrutineers and taken to the Union's rooms and be opened in the presence of Scrutineers and the count shall then proceed. If it is necessary to interrupt the count for any purpose the papers shall be sealed in the Ballot Box, to which any seals may be affixed by a Scrutineer.

(15) Two Scrutineers who are not candidates shall be elected by the State Management Committee not later than the last day in November to assist the Returning Officer in the conduct of the Ballot.

(16) The Returning Officer shall notify the State Management Committee of the result of the Ballot and the State Management Committee shall issue instructions for the publication of same in their minutes and the "Building Workers' Journal" and/or "Building Worker." He shall also notify each successful candidate by post and publish their names in at least one daily newspaper circulating in the Branch area.

(17) The successful candidates shall take up their respective duties not later than the first day of January following the conclusion of the Ballot and shall remain elected until their successors take up office.

A successful candidate who fails to take up his position on or before the above date shall, unless a reasonable cause to the satisfaction of the State Management Committee be shown, be deemed to have resigned, and shall not be eligible to nominate for any office for a period of four years.

(18) Should a vacancy occur in any of the above mentioned offices, the State Management Committee shall fill the position within one month if the term remaining is not more than twelve months. If the term remaining is more than twelve months, an election shall be held in accordance with these Rules to fill the vacancy.

(19) Any candidate may appoint a Scrutineer who shall be entitled at the expense of the candidate to be present at any stage of the Ballot.

(20) Any accidental or unavoidable omission or error in the carrying out or observance of this Rule shall not invalidate an election unless such omission or error is shown to have affected the result of an election.

(21) In any election the Returning Officer and any Scrutineer shall do all things necessary to preserve the secrecy of the Ballot.

RULE 20

ORGANISERS:

1. One or more Organisers may be appointed in the State for the purpose of organisation, the same to be under the control of the S.M.C., and they shall attend S.M.C. meetings when required. No member may be nominated for the position of Organiser who has been in the Union for less than three (3) years continuously. They shall be nominated and elected by the members under the jurisdiction of the State M.C.

When District Organisers are to be elected they may be nominated by any Sub-Branch within the State in which the district is situated, but shall be elected by the members of the Sub-Branches within the district in which the District Organiser is to operate.

State Organisers may be elected and remain in office for a period of three years, provided that if the funds are insufficient to meet the half-yearly expenditure, their services may be temporarily dispensed with at the discretion of the S.M.C.

The S.M.C. may appoint Temporary Organisers for a period not exceeding six (6) months; the duties of Organisers to be determined by the S.M.C.

2. Any Sub-Branch may, subject to the consent of the S.M.C., appoint a Local Organiser for a period of not exceeding six months. An amount equal to 10 per cent of the previous half-year's income may be used for this purpose. This amount may be subsidised by the S.M.C. on application by the Sub-Branch.

RULE 21

SHOP STEWARDS.

For the convenience of members, Shop or Job Stewards may be appointed by Sub-Branches within the district under their control.

Should any Shop or Job Steward be victimised, or be reasonably supposed to be victimised, from carrying out any duties to the Union, the S.M.C. shall take all necessary steps to see that the member is compensated for any loss he may incur.

RULE 22

TOOL BENEFIT:

1. All members who have been in the Union for twelve (12) months and are financial at the time of such loss, shall be entitled to compensation for tools lost by fire, theft, or in any other way that, in the opinion of the Sub-Branch Committee, will entitle them to benefit, to the amount of twenty pounds (£20) in any one claim, but no claim for Tool Benefit shall be entertained if it be under twenty-five shillings (25/-).

2. The maximum amount payable to any member for Tool Benefit shall not exceed twenty pounds (£20) in any period of 12 months.

Not Paid in Money

3. No tool claim shall be paid in money, although it shall not be imperative for any Sub-Branch to supply members with similar tools to those which have been lost, provided that the value of the tools supplied does not exceed the amount required in order to replace the lost tools. If the lost tools are recovered, the new ones shall be returned to the Sub-Branch to be disposed of at the discretion of the Sub-Branch.

Reporting Loss

4. Members claiming shall report the loss at the police station nearest to the job, and shall obtain the signature of the police officers on a form provided by the Branch Secretary as an acknowledgement of such report. A properly priced list shall be lodged with the Sub-Branch Secretary within seven days accompanied by a statutory declaration signed by a Justice of the Peace. The Sub-Branch Secretary shall ascertain from the police whether such loss has been reported.

Name Stamp

5. Members claiming this benefit shall produce their name stamp in one piece, or its impress, and affirm in writing that the tools are duly stamped with the same. Such name stamp shall consist of claimant's surname, and at least one initial. In the case of tools composed entirely of steel or iron, the member must affirm that the tools bore his private mark by which identification is possible, provided that at all times the Sub-Branch Committee, with the instruction of the Sub-Branch, may determine when the question of the possession of a name stamp shall not prevent the payment of a tool claim.

Tool Benefit—Registration of Name Stamp

6. All tool claims shall be subject to revision by the State Management Committee where deemed necessary, and any claimant for such benefit shall first of all have his name stamp registered with the S.M.C.; such to be done through his Sub-Branch.

Loss By Enemy Action

7. Nothing in this Rule shall render the Union liable to compensate any person for loss of any tools by him as a result of enemy or belligerent action.

RULE 22

FUNERAL ALLOWANCE

1. The Union shall pay out of its funds a funeral allowance to the representatives of deceased members who have been members for a period of twelve months. On the death of a member who does not owe more than one half-year's contributions, a sum of money in accordance with the appended scale of funeral allowances shall be paid to his widow, next of kin, or nominee, or whomsoever may, in the opinion of the Union, prove to have an equitable claim to it, provided that at the time of such member joining the Union he was not over fifty (50) years of age. Provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any member who joined the Union prior to its amalgamation. In the event of a member dying, and there being no widow, next of kin, or nominee discovered to whom the Union may deem it just to pay the funeral allowance, the Union shall defray the cost of decent interment of the remains of such a member, and should the circumstances of such a case induce the Union to inter the remains and a claimant to the funeral allowance afterwards arise and prove his or her claim, the Union shall deduct from the amount of such claim, all the expenses it may have been put to on account of the interment, and pay the balance, if any, to the claimant.

2 Scale of Funeral Allowances:—On the death of a financial member who has been a member of the Union for twelve (12) months, the funeral allowance shall be one pound (£1), and shall increase at the rate of one pound (£1) per annum, the maximum to be twenty pounds (£20).

RULE 24

SALARIES OF OFFICERS

The State Management Committee shall from time to time set down a scale of payments for Sub-Branch Secretaries, Sub-Branch Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Delegates, Money Stewards, Sick Stewards, Sub-Branch Committees, Returning Officers and Deputy Returning Officers, Scrutineers, and clerical assistance, provided that when such scale is determined, it shall be registered under the Trade Union Act and the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act as part of the Rules of the Union.

RULE 25

OFFICERS' HOLIDAYS:

All full-time officers of this Union shall be allowed three weeks' holiday each year on full pay. Such holidays shall be taken in each year, and are not to be allowed to accumulate. The committees controlling the officers shall decide when each officer's holiday shall be taken.

RULE 26

CONTINGENT FUND:

Banked by S.M.C.

1. All money collected for the Contingent Fund shall be forwarded by the Sub-Branch Secretaries to the S.M.C. each half-year, at the same time as the dues, under Rule 16, Clause 24, are remitted, and shall be banked by the S.M.C. in the name of the Union in a separate account.

How Used

2. The Contingent Fund shall be used for the purpose of relieving cases of distress amongst members that are recommended by the Sub-Branches to and approved of by the S.M.C. It may be used for assisting our own or any other trade.

Applications to S.M.C.

3. All applications for donations to members shall be on a schedule provided by the Union, and no donation shall be made unless such schedule is filled in by the Sub-Branch Secretary and approved by the S.M.C.

4. Requests for donations for purposes other than the relief of members shall be forwarded to the S.M.C., and shall contain full particulars of the purpose of the proposed donation.

Qualifications for Assistance

5. No member who has been less than three months in the Union shall be eligible for assistance from this fund, but in no case shall this fund be used for the payment of benefit to which a member is otherwise disentitled.

RULE 27

APPRENTICES:

1. Candidates for this section must be proposed in the Sub-Branch meeting by adult members of the Union; they shall pay the usual entrance fee; they must have worked at the trade twelve (12) months, and be not less than sixteen (16) years of age.

Tool Benefit

2. Members of this section who have been in the Union twelve (12) months and are financial, shall be entitled to compensation for tools lost by fire or theft, or other ways that in the opinion of the Sub-Branch Committee entitle the member to benefit, to an amount equal to half that allowed to members of the General Section. No claim to be entertained if it is under five shillings (5/-).

The conditions relating to Tool Benefit in Rule 22 shall be complied with. They shall have the same privileges as other members.

Transfer to Full Membership

3. On attaining the age of 21 years or on the completion of their apprenticeship, they shall be transferred to full membership.

RULE 28

ALTERATION TO RULES:

Before alterations, amendments or additions to rules are dealt with by the S.M.C., Sub-Branches shall be requested to forward alterations, amendments, or additions to rules two months prior to the S.M.C. meeting convened to deal with such proposals and amendments, etc. Rules shall be submitted to a referendum of the whole of the members of the State by ballot.

RULE 29

REFERENDUM:

Upon request of a majority of Sub-Branches comprising a majority of the membership requesting a referendum upon any matter, the S.M.C. shall immediately take a referendum of the whole membership and should any such referendum be carried by a majority of members voting by ballot, the same shall be binding upon members of the Branch.

RULE 30

DISSOLUTION:

1. Whenever the number of members in this Union is reduced to twenty-one (21) by deaths or exclusions, a majority of the remaining members may, at meeting assembled at the Registered Office, finally dissolve the Union; subject to discharging all debts and liabilities legally incurred in the Union's name providing that when the amalgamation of Building Trade Unions is accomplished all funds and assets shall become the property of the Union formed by our amalgamation.

STANDING ORDERS AND RULES OF DEBATE

Call to Speak

1. The first speaker who attracts the attention of the President shall have precedence in speaking.

2. Members addressing the meeting shall direct their speech to the Presiding Officer, and remain standing while so doing.

Motions

3. No discussion shall take place on any motion unless such motion is duly proposed and seconded. Any number of amendments may be proposed.

Amendment

4. When a motion shall have been duly proposed and seconded, the President shall proceed at once to take the votes thereon; unless some member rises to oppose it or to propose an amendment; but no amendment shall be in order unless notice be given to move the same before the proposer of the resolution has replied.

5. No more than two members shall speak against any question before the meeting, and, if at the conclusion of the second speaker's remarks, no member rises to speak on the other side, the motion or amendment shall be put at once to the meeting.

Question Be Now Put

6. It shall be competent at any time during a debate for a member who has not already spoken to the question before the chair to move, without discussion, "That the question be now put," which on being duly seconded and carried, shall necessitate the submission of the motion at once to the meeting after the mover has replied.

Speak Only Once

7. Except in explanation, no member, other than the mover, shall speak more than once on the same motion.

Time Limit

8. No member shall be allowed more than ten minutes to speak on a motion unless with the concurrence of the meeting.

Reply

9. The mover only shall have the privilege of reply, after which the motion shall be forthwith put to the meeting.

10. Questions of order shall be decided by the Chairman, whose ruling shall be final, unless it is challenged by a formal motion for that purpose.

President's Right to Speak

11. The President or Chairman for the time being may speak only on questions in which the interests of the office he represents are directly involved. In the event of the President or Chairman desiring to speak on any question, he shall vacate the chair.

Limit to Debate

12. Should any question have occupied the attention of the meeting for thirty (30) minutes, the discussion on such question shall be deemed to have closed, and the President shall forthwith call on the mover to reply, unless the meeting decides by resolution (carried by a majority of the members present) to continue the discussion of the matter in question.

Notice of Motion

13. At any meeting of the Sub-Branch any member may give notice of motion for a future meeting by (1) reading such notice to the meeting; or (2) handing a copy thereof to the President. Such notice of motion shall take precedence in the order in which it stands in the minute book, in relation to other similar notices, unless otherwise ordered by the Sub-Branch, and shall lapse if the member, or some member on his behalf, be not present when the order of the day for such notice is read.

Motion to Adjourn

No motion for the adjournment of the meeting shall be received while there is business before the President.

Moving Dissent From Chairman's Ruling

14. Any member dissatisfied with the ruling of the Chairman may move a motion of dissent as follows, "That the Chairman's ruling be dissented from."

How Put

The motion shall then be put to the meeting by the Vice-Chairman, without discussion, in the following manner:—

That the question is, "That the Chairman's ruling be upheld." Those in favour of upholding the Chairman's ruling say, "Aye." Those against the Chairman's ruling being upheld say, "No."

The mover only shall speak to the motion, except the Chairman, who may explain his reasons for the ruling given.

The Vice-Chairman shall not give a ruling on the question involved in the Chairman's ruling.

The Vice-Chairman's ruling shall only be dissented from a direct appeal to the meeting, the question being put by the Vice-Chairman without discussion.

Our Glorious Union

OUR Union is the Queensland Branch of the Building Workers' Industrial Union of Australia, which is a National Union of approximately 40,000 members.

Our Queensland Branch of the B.W.I.U. is also known as the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners of Australia.

We are registered under the Industrial Conciliation & Arbitration Act and Trade Union Act of Queensland, as the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters & Joiners.

This is because the Court refused to allow us to register a change of name to the Building Workers' Industrial Union after our members decided by ballot to effect such a change.

● Our Union has a glorious unbroken history of well over 100 years of operation in Australia.

● The records of the Queensland Government show that our union was operating in Queensland in 1860.

The Queensland Trade Union Act of 1886 was passed in that year and our Union was one of the thirteen Queensland unions which registered under that Act in 1887.

Records of 1887 show that we had 283 financial members and £117 in the bank. One hundred and sixty-three members were on unemployment benefits in 1887 for a total of 5343 days.

To-day our union in Queensland has a membership of more than 11,500, with bank assets worth £40,000.

Our union is affiliated with the Australian Council of Trade Unions, the Trades & Labour Council of Queensland, the Queensland Building Trades Group and the Australian Labour Party.

Our union is our membership and our union belongs to our members.

● Always help to build and strengthen our union as well as build unity in action and strength of the working class to help win real power for the people, while struggling in unity for Peace, Progress and Socialism.

HINTS FOR THE JOB REP

LIKE the Sub-Branch Secretary, the Job Rep. is fundamental to the very existence of your union. He is the contact between the Union and the members on the job.

He is the framework on which much union activity evolves. Job reps. strengthen our union and ensure that it is a real fighting force moving forward as one organisation.

PROTECT YOUR REP

Thus every job where there are three or more members should elect a job rep. That done the Union Office should be advised so that immediate and regular contact may be maintained.

For these reasons the best possible man—in other words the best unionist—should be elected as your job rep. Then it is up to you to protect him from victimisation. Members when electing reps. should always remember that it is their obligation to back whatever action the Union proposes in order to protect reps.

A Job Rep. is essentially the Union's representative on the job, and he is bound by the policy of the Union and its Rules.

Job Reps. should represent the workers who elected them on all discussions with the employer relating to job conditions.

On jobs where other trades are employed, action should be taken to elect a job committee of representatives from each trade.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE

- Only the Union itself can make agreements involving Award matters with employers.
- The Job Rep. should check the financial standing of every member on the job and members must co-operate by producing their O.K. Card to the Job Rep. when commencing work.
- Job Reps. should call a meeting, or discussion, between members at least once a month.
- Job Reps. will be supplied with an interim receipt book for collection of dues—members should receive official receipt and O.K. Card within fourteen days of payment.
- If such Official Receipt is not received within fourteen days, members should forthwith contact the Union Office.
- Job Reps. should immediately report all disputes to the Union Office.

SOME MORE MUSTS

Job Reps. should check to ensure that all Award conditions are observed by the employer, including Safe Tool Lock Up, Proper Sanitation, Dressing and Messing Facilities, Drinking Water, First Aid, Safety First Precautions, and Proper Transport. The Union Office should be advised of all breaches.

Job Reps. when paying in monies should always give the number of the members concerned for there are many members with the same name.

Also please check to ensure that all changes of address are notified.

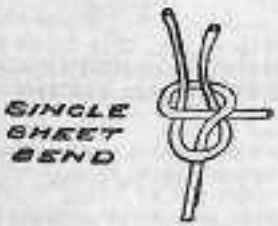
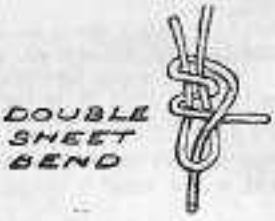
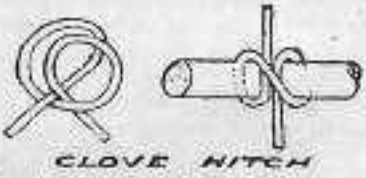
HOW TO TIE KNOTS

Thumb Knot and Figure of Eight: These two knots are used to put in the end of a rope to prevent it unreeving through a block.
Reef Knot: Simplest of all knots. Always used when a common tie is required.



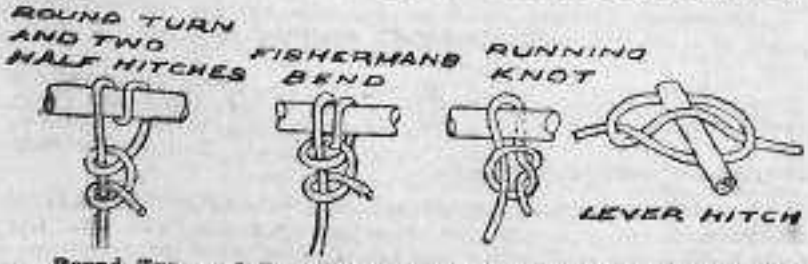


Single and Double Sheet Bend: Used to join two ropes of the same size.



Hawser Bend: To join larger cables together. NOTE: Two half hitches and ends seized. Clove Hitch: Used to secure the end of a rope to a pole or post.

Timber Hitch: For lifting timber. Killick Hitch: An extension of the standard timber hitch for greater control over long lengths of timber.



Round Turn and Two Half Hitches; Fisherman's Bend; Running Knot; Lever Hitch: Always leave reasonable amount of rope extended beyond knot.

ALL building workers who are working for an employer and who get wages are covered by workers compensation. Sub-contractors are not covered and in some cases building workers injured doing "Labour Only" jobs have had their claim for compensation rejected—another good reason why our members should give "Labour Only" jobs away.

Failure of an employer to insure his workers does not relieve either the employer or the State Government Insurance Office of their responsibility.

Coverage

Building workers are covered by workers' compensation when going to and from work (provided they travel by a reasonably direct route) whilst on the job, or if away from the job on the bosses' directions.

When hurt you should report the accident as soon as practicable and either fill in or get someone else to fill in the application for compensation (Form 4). This should be lodged with the State Government Insurance Office as soon as possible.

Compensation will not be paid until such time as Form 4 has been lodged. Neither will it be paid unless the employer has also lodged his report on the injury. The employer does this on Form 3.

The above forms may be obtained at the B.W.I.U. office should any help in completing them be required.

Report All Accidents

Remember! Always report an accident and see that a note is made of it for you never know when what may seem a trivial injury only may turn out to be something very serious.

As workers compensation payments are related to the cost of living adjustments made from time to time by the Arbitration Court, the base payment varies but may always be obtained from the B.W.I.U. To the base payment (£9/10/- when this booklet was compiled) should be added 50/- for a dependent wife (that is, a wife not working and not having any income) and 15/- for each dependent child under 16.

However the most which can be drawn is either the compensation amount based on the number of dependants or the Award rate—whichever is the lesser.

00052

£2800 Maximum

The total amount which will be paid by way of compensation payments is £2800 in the case of injury or £3500 plus £75 for each dependent child in the event of death.

Payment of workers compensation commences the day AFTER the injury and the employer is responsible for payment for the day of injury. Some employers try to "duck" such payment but the law is specific on the issue.

Medical Expenses

Medical expenses (including medicines) up to an amount not exceeding £70 will be met by the State Government Insurance Office on production of proof of the expense. But the SGIO will not pay private hospital expenses in those cases where beds are available in a public hospital.

Thus you should be very careful on the foregoing for some doctors try to "steer" their patients into a private hospital. Whilst you may suit yourself where you go the SGIO will not pay the bill if a bed is available in a public hospital. On this a private ward in a public hospital is treated as in a private hospital—again no payment.

But you are entitled to your weekly compensation whether in a private or public hospital.

False Teeth & Glasses

Breakage of false teeth or glasses does not come within medical expenses unless the breakage was caused by an accident requiring you to go on to compensation or to receive medical attention. In short the breakage must have been caused by a compensatable injury.

As many injuries are such as to incur either the total or partial loss of limbs or the total or partial incapacity of a limb or portion of a limb, special payments known as Lump Sum payments are laid down in the Workers' Compensation Act.

Lump Sum Payments

- Any payments already made by way of compensation payments —weekly or otherwise—cannot be deducted from the lump sum offered. On the other hand you cannot draw more that £2800 by way of compensation payments and a lump sum payment.
- When a Lump Sum payment is offered by the Insurance Commissioner you have but one of two choices: (a) accept the payment if you consider it a fair one (it couldn't be very fair for the payments fixed by the Legislature are far too low anyhow) or (b) see your union for advice as to whether the assessment of loss of capacity of the injured limb etc., is a reasonable one.

"Compo" Ceases

However the tough thing about the foregoing is that once the Insurance Commissioner makes an offer of a Lump Sum payment, weekly payment of compensation ceases.

Whilst on injuries you cannot draw more than £2800 in all, irrespective of the number of injuries sustained in the particular accident.

(On this and in Victoria and under the Commonwealth, compensation may continue indefinitely—another indictment of the Act in this State.)

00053

Negligence — Damages Action

Here is the position in those cases where a worker has been injured or killed as the result of an accident contributed to or caused by an employer's negligence (for example, an unsafe scaffold).

● Under a fairly recent amendment to the Act an injured worker or the dependants of a fatally injured worker may now take a civil action for damages and still draw compensation provided the SGIO is informed of such intention when completing the application for compo. (Question 5(e) on Form 4).

● Failure to win a damages action would not remove a worker from compensation, but the negotiation of settlements or compromises on damages actions cannot be carried through without the permission of the Insurance Commissioner. Further, if a lump sum payment has been made to the dependants of a fatally injured worker such payment may be re-claimed by the SGIO in the event of a successful damages action.

A very raw point on fatal injury is that there is no provision for a funeral allowance; in fact workers' compensation legislation would prefer you to die for more money would be saved. Another stark indictment of how capitalism treats those whose labour alone makes possible the profits of the capitalists!

Time Limit — 6 Months

Speedy notification of all injuries is essential in compensation cases. There is a time limit of six months on lodgement of claims and this union knows of many cases where failure to lodge a claim has led to a subsequent claim (where the injury at first an apparently minor one grew into a serious one) being rejected.

There are also time limits on a damages action, but whilst the limit against individuals or firms or companies allows fairly reasonable scope the time limit on actions against Government Departments is very short indeed—so you would be well advised to seek advice from the B.W.I.U.

Medical Certificates

Medical certificates do not have to be obtained from any special doctor but such certificates should always clearly state that the nature of your employment or an accident at your place of employment caused the injury.

In the case of an injury not necessitating absence from work, but requiring medical attention from say a doctor, the SGIO will pay the bill provided always that the accident is reported and that Form 4 mentioned earlier is filled in by the worker and Form 3 by the employer.

Young Workers

● Should death result from an injury to a young worker under 21 who leaves no dependants, but who is survived by one or both parents resident in the State, such parent or parents shall be dependants and shall receive £200.

● Should a badly injured worker who has been on weekly compensation payments subsequently die then his dependants shall be paid the Lump Sum provided for fatal injury (£2500 plus £75 for each dependent child) LESS any payments already made by way of weekly payments PROVIDED that the minimum amount which the dependant shall receive shall be not less than £300.

SOME FINAL DON'TS

● Don't fail to report an accident however trivial and if you think the injury may become more serious fill in a compensation form even if you don't have to go on to compo.

● Don't fall for "Labour Only" or piece work jobs; they are not only illegal under our Award but in some cases you prejudice your rights to compensation. The same goes for jobs you might do for your employer on a weekend in your own workshop (for example, cutting out etc.).

● Don't return to work until your doctor says you should come off compo. You will not only get no marks for such an action, but your union has had difficulty in reopening claims where the injury has worsened following a worker's premature return to work.

● Don't accept a lump sum payment for total or permanent incapacity if in doubt on the percentage offered. Talk it over with us. The same goes for possible action on a claim for damages.

● Don't fall for those doctors who would steer you into a private hospital for reasons of their own—remember once again that the SGIO will NOT pay private hospital expenses if beds are available in a public ward in a hospital (as they usually are).

WHAT ARE THE FACTS ON TRAVELLING TIME

PERHAPS the most difficult clause to understand in the Building Trades Award is the one dealing with travelling time and fares.

This is because employers will not agree to a reasonable flat rate travelling time payment to cover all building workers, with the result that practically every inquiry on travelling time has to be carefully considered by your Union's officers before a decision can be given.

What is the Centre?

The first essential to answering a travelling time query is: "Where do you live and where is the job?"

The second essential is to know what is the "Centre."

Let us take the second point first. The "Centre" is the General Post Office in Brisbane, or Central, Brunswick St., Roma St., or South Brisbane Railway Stations; or the Post Office in country towns. It can also be the employer's permanent workshop in those rare cases where the employer has a permanent workshop.

Goes Through Centre

Imagine a building worker who has to travel into town (say from Coorparoo) then has to go past or to the Centre (that is the G.P.O.) or, in other words, has to go through or to the City to get to the job, which might be at Clayfield, Kedron, Indooroopilly, or at any of the many suburbs on the North Side of the City.

(The above goes also for the person coming from, say, Ascot, going past or to the Centre to get to the job which might be either on the North Side (say Bardon) or on the South Side (say Salisbury.)

The 3 Mile Point

Now, and in such cases, the building worker's travelling time commences from a point three miles from the G.P.O. and on the way to the job.

For example, the three mile point on the Paddington Line is Rockbourne Terrace; on the Coorparoo Line, O'Keefe St., and so on.

So for all time spent travelling beyond what are known as the three mile points (they are given in this booklet on page 79) the worker must be paid for the time so spent. And the time so spent is determined by the method of travel—i.e. by tram, bus, other motor vehicle, or walking. (The time allowance for such travel will be found on page 79).

About Fares

Now about fares! Here the governing principle is that if one is eligible for travelling time, then one must also be paid fares. However, whilst the travelling time payment starts from the three mile point, fares must be paid from the Centre or the G.P.O., or in the case of rail travel, from Central, Roma St., Brunswick St., or South Brisbane Railway Stations.

How Calculated

For example, in the case of a worker travelling from Ascot, on the North side, to Camp Hill, on the South side, the travelling time to be paid would be all time spent travelling between O'Keefe Street, Stones Corner (the three mile point) and the job at Camp Hill, but all fares incurred from the G.P.O. (not O'Keefe Street) must be paid.

So far, we have dealt only with those cases where the worker goes through town on his way to the job.

Doesn't Go Through Centre

It is now necessary to examine the position where the worker's home is nearer to the job than to the Centre.

For example, you live at Greenslopes, and the job is at Coopers Plains. Here, and to get to the job, you would probably come into the 'Gabba and get a tram out to Salisbury—or you might get a bus from Greenslopes to Ipswich Road and catch the tram there.

Of course, you can think of many examples similar to the above.

3 Miles From Home

Now, in such cases, your travelling time starts from a point three miles from your home and all time spent in travel thereafter, must be paid on the same basis as that outlined earlier. Your fares in such a case commence from the starting point of travel—not from the three mile point.

Job on Direct Route

The next case we deal with is that where the job lies in a direct line between your home and the Centre. For example, you live at Wynnum and the job is at Norman Park. In this instance you are travelling by train towards the Centre (i.e. town) but you break your journey to go to the job at Norman Park.

In a case such as the above, travelling time would NOT be payable.

Permanent Workshop

We now come to the position where the employer claims to have a permanent workshop on the job. For a start, the job itself is NOT a workshop—neither is a mere shop erected on or about the job. Permanent workshop means what it says—"Lasting or intended to last indefinitely, fixed or enduring in character, state, condition, position or the like—not temporary or subject to change." (Quotation from the late Justice Mcnaughton's definition of permanent).

Shops erected to carry out particular jobs are not permanent workshops either. In short, there cannot be many permanent workshops at all under the above definitions.

Travelling Time Not Paid

However, in those rare cases where the employer does have a permanent workshop, such workshop becomes the Centre and all time spent in travelling TO that permanent workshop or Centre is not paid for, irrespective of distance. Neither are fares paid.

Travelling Time Interpretation — Given by The State Industrial Court

On April, 1950, before the State Industrial Court, the Public Service Commissioner, through Mr. J. S. Bennett, applied for an interpretation of the Travelling Time Clause of the Building Trade Award.

Subsequent to extensive argument the Court declared:

"Employees are entitled to payment at ordinary rates of pay for all time occupied in travelling to and from the job over and above three miles where such work is more than three miles from the Centre."

NO PERMANENT WORKSHOP

Clause 12 covers travelling time; the clause sets out that for all employers who do not have a permanent Workshop, the distance is calculated from the G.P.O. or Brisbane Central, Roma Street, Brunswick Street, or Melbourne Street Stations, where the work is done within ten miles of the G.P.O.

WHERE PERMANENT WORKSHOP

The distance shall be calculated from such workshop, but where the job is nearer the employee's residence than the Shop, the distance shall be calculated from the employee's residence.

OUT OF TEN MILES RADIUS

Where the employer has no permanent workshop the distance shall be calculated from the Post Office where the employer carries on business; or if the employee's residence is nearer to the job than where the employer carries on his business, then the distance is to be calculated from the employee's residence.

WHAT COURT SAID

The Industrial Court stated in the judgment described: "It might appear that the first paragraph of sub-clause 3 of the Travelling Time Clause (sub-clause 3; under this clause the following method shall be adopted to ascertain the distance travelled by an employee from his shop or centre to the job) limits the right of payment to those employees who travel from a centre to the job, but that paragraph (Sub-Clause 3) only provides machinery to ascertain the distance travelled and cannot restrict the right granted under sub-clause 2."

This clause states: "(2) Employees employed on work more than three miles from the shop or centre as hereinafter mentioned shall be paid ordinary rates of pay for all time occupied in travelling to and from the job over and above three miles."

This means that it is not necessary to go to the centre to be entitled to travelling time. Travelling time is payable after three miles travel to a job that does not lie between the centre and the employee's residence and which is over three miles from the centre described in Clause 12.

"KNOW YOUR AWARD"

HUNDREDS of queries on the Building Trade Award are answered each week by BWIU officials and we could easily fill this booklet with such questions and answers.

HOWEVER some of the questions bob up time and time again so this section of our booklet will deal with such questions—giving you a ready reference to points which bother our members.

DAY'S NOTICE

Question: The Building Trade Award provides for a day's notice to be given. What is a day's notice in this case?

Answer: A day's notice means a full day. To be given notice to finish at the end of one day the employee must be told at knock-off time the day previous. Certainly the employee cannot be given notice to finish that night after he has started work on the day in question.

HOLIDAY PAY

Question: If I am getting more than the award rate and my holidays are due, at what wage rate should I be paid for my two weeks leave?

Answer: A worker receiving wages in excess of the award rate and having holidays due must be paid for such holidays at the rate BEING RECEIVED where such rate is in excess of the award. The same goes for long service leave when due.

PRO RATA LEAVE

Question: I have been sacked after working for only a few weeks. How do I find out my pro rata leave?

Answer: Add up all the wages you have received—deduct any overtime and DIVIDE the total by 25. The result is your pro rata leave.

PUTTING TOOLS AWAY

Question: Have we the right to put away our tools before ceasing time?

Answer: Absolutely. Putting tools away is as much the part of the work of the employee as using such tools. Tools of trade MUST NOT be collected and put away in the worker's time. They MUST be put away in the employer's time.

PAY PARTICULARS

Question: What's the score on pay envelopes? The chap I work for gives no details whatever of how my pay is made up.

Answer: Your boss is breaking the law. All employers must give you, in written detailed form, the full particulars of how your pay is calculated. The gross wage—overtime, travelling time, fares, etc., all deductions and net wage must be clearly shown. This is provided for in the Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

PAY DEDUCTIONS

Question: Can the employer make deductions for other than taxation?

Answer: No. The Wages Act makes it an offence for an employer to make any deductions from a worker's wage (other than for taxation) without the worker's written authority.

STAND-DOWNS

Question: What is my position if the boss says: "There's no material coming in tomorrow, so I won't need you?"

Answer: So long as you are in the employ of the employer and haven't been sacked and paid all monies due, you must be paid for as long as you are able and willing to work.

SACKED ON COMPO

Question: Can I be sacked whilst off on compo?

Answer: Unfortunately, yes. Laws operate in the main to protect the boss—not the worker. All the boss has to do is to give you a day's notice whilst on compo. Obviously because you are hurt you cannot cut out the day so you finish up without even getting the customary day's notice. We are trying to do something about this matter but the only final protection lies in Parliament legislating on the matter.

WET PAY

Question: What happens when it is too wet to work?

Answer: You must be paid for all time lost on account of wet, up to eight hours in any one week.

Question: What is meant by the "Week"?

Answer: The Arbitration Court calls the "week" the PAY WEEK. So if you are normally paid, for example on a Friday night, you would get eight hours pay if it rained heavily for more than eight hours in the week ending that Friday night. Once the pay week principle is applied the week cannot be moved about to suit the weather.

BOSSES' TIME

Question: Our award says that we must be paid within 5 minutes of ceasing time. What does that mean?

Answer: It means that wages must be paid in the employer's time.

CASUAL RATE

Question: What is meant by the Casual Rate?

Answer: All employment of less than a week's duration is casual work, with the carpenter doing it being a casual. To compensate the casual worker for many conditions which he loses, (e.g. pro rata leave, holidays, etc.) he must be paid a higher rate which is now the ordinary hourly rate PLUS 12½ per cent.

Question: Can I be sacked for incompetency after I have been employed for more than a week?

Answer: No. The award is very clear that no employee shall be dismissed for incompetency after he has worked a week for an employer.

SHOW DAYS

Question: What are the facts on Exhibition or Show Day holiday?

Answer: Show or Exhibition Day is a paid holiday. You get double time if compelled to work. The holiday varies in accordance with the location of the particular Show. Show Day holiday applies to those WORKING in the area where the Show holiday occurs.

REST PAUSES

Question: Can I give up a rest pause and finish 10 minutes early?

Answer: No and such an action would be a gross selling out of a hard won condition. Further, such breaching of the award would soon lead to employers striving to take the condition off us altogether.

SHARPENING TOOLS

Question: In whose time do I sharpen my tools of trade and what if there is no suitable grindstone on the job?

Answer: Tools are sharpened in the bosses time and not in yours. If a suitable grindstone is not supplied on the job then 1/- per week must be paid to each carpenter.

LABOUR ONLY

Question: Am I breaching the award if I work "Labour Only?"

Answer: Doing jobs "Labour Only" is a very serious breach of the Award and in fact is illegal. The basis of "labour only" is that the employer supplies material and you SELL your labour usually for so much per square. By that act you not only put yourself outside the protection of the award, but as mentioned elsewhere in this booklet, it is also very doubtful if you are covered by workers' compensation. Then again the union has scores of cases where the BUYER of the "labour only" has gone through leaving the "labour only" chap holding the bag oft times without any chance of recovering his money; for because "labour only" is a breach of the award the union can't do much to assist. Worst of all "labour only" if allowed to go on unchecked would destroy the award itself—for sooner or later workers would be selling their labour at prices below the minimum laid down in the award.

Question: What about piece work?

Answer: This is another award breaking manoeuvre and it too is illegal.

2 HOURS SHARPEN TOOLS

Question: Would you outline the drill on the two hours allowed for sharpening tools—that is, the two hours when sacked?

Answer: Our award lays down that a carpenter must have two hours for sharpening tools and those two hours belong to him. He may leave the job if he wishes, but the trap is that the employer is not compelled to hand over the carpenter's pay until within five minutes of ceasing time. However, most do the right thing and pay the chaps at 3 p.m.

EASTER HOLIDAYS

Question: Can the boss refuse to pay me for Good Friday and Easter Monday if I have not been employed by him for a month before Easter?

Answer: No. So long as you were employed before and up to Easter, you must be paid for Good Friday and Easter Monday. The reference in the award to "close down" at Easter DOES NOT refer to where the employer does not open the job for the two days—that is NOT a close down.

NOT DIVISIBLE

Question: If a holiday falls during the week can my tool and sick allowance be reduced accordingly; that is, can the employer knock a fifth off?

Answer: No. In August 1943 the Industrial Court declared that: "Tool and sick allowances must not be reduced because of holidays which occur in the week."

WAITING TIME

Question: What does the waiting time clause in the award mean?

Answer: When finishing up on a job whether sacked or for any other reason, the boss must pay all monies due to you (including pro rata leave, etc.) within 5 minutes of the normal ceasing time. If he does not pay you then he can be penalised to the extent of 8 hours in any one day—at double time rates for every full day you have to wait for your money.

ARREARS OF WAGES

Question: How long have I got to lodge a claim for arrears of wages or for any other breach of the award?

Answer: If wages are due to you and you do not have us initiate action to recover them within SIX MONTHS then you can start to kiss your money goodbye. Only exception to the SIX MONTHS limitation is where the Industrial Court or a Magistrate extends the limitation period to 12 months. But to get an extension, the action to recover (irrespective of the type of action taken) must have been initiated in some form or other. And in any case if you allow a claim to go beyond 12 months, you are definitely out with no chance whatever of legal redress.

TELL US QUICKLY

Question: You propose then that we inform the union immediately we do not get wages or other monies due to us.

Answer: Absolutely. It's hard enough now to land defaulting employers without making it even harder by giving such employers a chance to dodge their obligations altogether by not telling us in good time.

Question: Is there a Santa Claus?

Answer: Yep, but neither he nor any of his relatives is related in any way to building trade employers.

COUNTRY ALLOWANCE

COUNTRY allowance is a bitterly won and valuable condition in the Building Trades Award. Here are some ways you can help to protect your country allowance.

● Check with the Union before taking country work. Make sure you have written or advertised evidence that you were engaged at your home city or town, or that you were engaged at least 20 miles from the job.

● Don't go to a job at say Mount Isa from Brisbane if the person engaging you tells you that you can have the job when you get there. Under such conditions you wouldn't get country allowance, and your acceptance of such conditions would enable employers to further drive against country allowance.

● See that the employer who is engaging you to go to the country has an established business or place of residence. Post office box numbers and pub engagements are usually a certain prelude to trouble.

● Make the employer pay your fare to the job and if he doesn't come across with the fare give him away. Don't pay the fare yourself on a promise that you will get it back. There may be fairies but they aren't in the building industry.

● Get a copy of the award before leaving and if you don't get all your entitlements the first week you are on the job wire the union.

DRESSING ACCOMMODATION

"WHAT minimum dressing room standards are laid down for building workers?" That question frequently asked is answered here.

Some years ago the Master Builders Association and the Building Trades Group reached agreement on dressing accommodation questions with the result that the following shall be deemed to be suitable dressing accommodation.

Dressing Sheds

● Dressing sheds shall be built of either wood or iron or other weatherproof material and shall be provided with at least one window or an opening wooden shutter and at least one door with a proper fastening attached.

● The floor of the dressing shed shall be of either wood raised from the ground or concrete protected against storm water. Seating accommodation must be such as to provide seating space of at least 2½ feet for each employee with the seat 9 inches wide. Sheds exceeding 15 feet in length shall have at least two doors.

Floor Space

● Racks shall be provided with nails or hooks on which the employees may hang their clothes. The interior floor space shall give 8 square feet (including the dressing accommodation) for each employee using the shed.

● For seven men 50 square feet shall be the minimum size of the shed. Where there are more than seven men an additional 8 square feet shall be provided for each additional employee.

Finally the agreement between the MBA and the BTG says that if the building in course of erection can provide all or a portion of the necessary accommodation on the foregoing basis then the shed accommodation can be arranged accordingly.

This scaffolding on which men were working was discovered by a BWIU Organiser in Cairns, its demolition was ordered. It could have been a short-cut to the grave.

Prior to the visit of a BWIU Organiser men were actually working from this "scaffolding". Remember always to put your protection before the bosses' profits!

00067

Don't Gamble With Your Life
It's The Only One You Have

QUEENSLAND'S SCAFFOLDING ACT is a good one—if all employers were forced to carry it out.

Unfortunately, too, some building workers allow employers to get away with offences against the Scaffolding Act by "putting up with" unsafe scaffolds, ladders, etc.

Always we should remember that a million pounds compensation cannot be adequate compensation for a death or a broken maimed body.

Which makes safe scaffolding YOUR BUSINESS.

Here below are some of the most common breaches of safety regulations which our organisers run into with monotonous regularity. They all add up to—DON'T WORK ON UNSAFE SCAFFOLDING NO MATTER WHAT THE BOSS SAYS.

LADDERS

Organisers have found it necessary to stop job after job where planks have been used off ladders; such planks often being 16 and 18 feet in length. BUT PLANKS MUST NOT BE USED OFF LADDERS. The Scaffolding Act says that—your safety demands it.

TRESTLES

On many jobs it has been found necessary to demand of employers that they provide guard rails over eight feet from the ground. This has meant that the employer has had to have safe mobile scaffold units built.

The Scaffolding Act says you must have guard rails when working over 8 feet above the ground. Your safety demands your carrying out that direction.

BRACES

Building workers on far too many jobs allow employers to get away with using two inch by one inch and three inch by one inch braces INSTEAD of three inch by one and a half inch—the very minimum laid down in the Scaffolding Act for your safety.

PLANKING

Fascia boards, barge boards and scantlings are too frequently used instead of the stipulated nine inch by one and one half inch thick plank (9 x 1½). DON'T USE WEATHER ROTTED PLANKS OR SPLIT PLANKS. Don't fall for using only one plank when working over 8 feet from the ground. You must have two good thick planks to make an 18 inch platform to work off.

CEILING WORK

Here again anything and everything is frequently used instead of proper planking—three inches apart—and supported by standard frames at either end and one running through the centre. For the pitching of roofs and the fixing of truss roofs it is again essential to use adequate planking for the safety of members.

00068

LEDGERS

Many breaches of the Scaffolding Act occur here. Union organisers often have to make employers take off weatherboards, four by one inch flooring and three by one and one half inch hardwood, and in some (not rare) cases pine from a car case ALL of which has not been up to standard.

Just anything will NOT do. It's your life at stake.

● Insist that nothing less than a six inch by one inch ledger is used.

● Make sure that cleats are used under all ledgers. These must be three by one and one half inch—checked out fully to accommodate the ledger. Cleats well nailed are much safer than a couple of nails.

STANDARDS

Nine feet is the maximum distance allowed for standards to ensure safety needs. Yet many employers use three inches by one and one half inches instead of the stipulated three inches by two inches or better. And such employers spread out standards to as far as 14 feet.

Remember it is your life and body such an employer is playing with—NOT HIS!

FURTHER BREACHES

● On several jobs an inch rope has been used up a stairway to the top of the building instead of a steel tube or proper timber guard rail stipulated by the Act.

● On a concrete picture show job an organiser found concrete piers being boxed off ladders and being poured off a platform 18 inches by 18 inches over 8 feet from the ground. Our members were working off ladders and cross cleats—hanging on with one hand and using the other to do the work. Mobile scaffolding is the only answer to such employer methods.

● On big jobs organisers are always having holes in the floor covered with planks and guarded off. That's their job of course, but it's yours too. Particularly is it your job ON THE JOB to stop the employer from getting away with such dangerous practices which are far too common.

FINAL POINTS

Organisers all the time are demanding that guard rails be put up on the outside of lift wells and around the outside of buildings "reaching for the sky."

They are continually ordering the fixing of guard rails around stairways leading from one floor to the other. Where ladders are used to convey members to various floors organisers make sure that a proper landing platform is provided at every 20 feet with guard rails attached to ladders and platforms.

We repeat what we said in the beginning. A million pounds compensation does not cover a death or a broken, maimed body. Don't work on unsafe scaffolding no matter what the boss says.

Make your golden rule and test on all scaffolding this: "Will I be as safe off the ground as on it." If not, don't go up, for there is always the terrible possibility that you will come down—HARD AND FAST.

DO'S AND DON'TS FOR JOINERY WORKERS

HERE are some "musts" and "don'ts" for joinery workers—all of which are very important to the preservation of your health and safety.

MACHINES: All machines must have a proper guard attached to them. Don't remove the guard for this can be fatal to yourself or your mate. Belt drives or direct electrical wiring must also be properly guarded and enclosed to prevent workers coming into contact with same.

CIRCULAR SAWS: All saws must have a guard affixed with a parting knife at the back of the saw to stop the saw throwing back timber at the worker operating it. Circular saws with no parting knife have caused far too many serious accidents in our industry.

DUST SUCTION: This is essential to keep the dust and shavings from machines from getting into employees' lungs. If you haven't got dust suction tell us. If you have got it, always insist that it is operating 100 per cent. When the plant is not working properly it is usually because the lines and blower machine are too small to cope with the number of machines operating.

Some other Do's and Don'ts:

- DO insist on adequate wash basins. DON'T use the basins for glue pot stands.
- DO insist on a separate dressing room and a separate dining room. DON'T use the factory as a change room.
- DO demand a fully equipped first aid kit, proper sanitation (see section in this book on this) and the best possible lighting and ventilation.

YOU ARE ENTITLED TO ALL OF THE ABOVE UNDER THE SHOPS AND FACTORIES ACTS AND THE MACHINERY ACTS—SEE THAT YOU GET THEM!

RAIL CONCESSIONS

Workers taking their annual leave are again reminded that they are entitled to obtain excursion rates from the Railways should they desire to travel by train.

The excursion rates, the form for which may be obtained at any railway station, cover the entire family and the only restriction is that the worker must not be earning more than £1250 per year.

In actual practice the excursion rates amount to the concessions that are normally received at Christmas and at Easter when a return fare ticket is bought and should there be a number of people in the family, then obviously quite a saving can be effected.

The excursion rates are applicable only within the State and they apply for a period of three weeks only. To get the excursion rates it is necessary to have the employer fill in the form which can be obtained at any railway station.

YOUR TAX DEDUCTIONS

UNLIKE big businessmen who have scores of ways of reducing their taxable income and an army of taxation experts to advise them on the best way to do it the worker is allowed comparatively few deductions.

Which makes it vital to know every single deduction you can claim.

INCOME

Income includes wages, overtime, sick pay, tool allowance and travelling time. Workers compensation, when received on a weekly basis, is also counted as income, but a lump sum payment (for example, a payment for the loss of a limb etc.) is NOT counted as income.

Long service leave payments are also counted as income EXCEPT when paid on retirement: under the latter conditions only 5 per cent of the total received is counted as income and is taxable.

DEPENDANTS

Should your wife have a separate income of more than £65 the deduction allowed for the dependent wife (at present £130) must be reduced by £2 for every £1 by which separate income exceeds £65. Should your wife be working full time, you cannot of course claim her as a dependant.

Allowance for a wholly dependent wife is £130 with the allowances for dependent children under 16 at £78 for the first child and £52 for each child thereafter. Allowances may also be claimed for student children dependants between 16 and 21 years of age, but if a claim is made the value of any Government assistance or other income must be shown.

When commencing on any job you should fill in a dependant's declaration—this form is supplied by the boss.

MAIN DEDUCTIONS

Here are the chief deductions you should claim on your tax return:

● Union dues, life, sickness and accident insurance premiums and payments to a Friendly Society, Superannuation scheme, medical or hospital benefit fund. The total which may be claimed for life insurance premiums, medical benefits, etc. is £200, and details must be shown of the amount claimed.

● Medical, dentist and optical charges. The cost of hearing aids, appliances prescribed by a doctor and artificial limbs etc. The maximum which can be claimed for these deductions is £150 per person covered in the taxation return. The foregoing £150 includes £30 dental expenses. Details of all this expenditure must be shown on the return.

● Rates and Land taxes paid by the taxpayer and for which he is personally liable; gifts to any registered funds, authorities and institutions. Funeral, burial, cremation expenses. (Maximum £30 for any one dependant).

OTHER DEDUCTIONS

Other deductions you may make are:

Kindergarten fees, cost of school books (where they have to be bought and are not supplied), other charges involved in educating your kiddies like cost of uniforms, fares to school etc. The cost of music lessons and elocution classes should also be claimed. Again details should be shown on the foregoing.

Always remember—if in doubt—MAKE A CLAIM! The worst that can happen is that the deduction you claim may be rejected.

ZONE ALLOWANCES

If you live or have lived in what the Taxation Commissioner calls Zone A or Zone B you are entitled to a deduction of £180 for Zone A and £30 for Zone B.

Zone A (allowance £180 per year) covers the whole of the Northern Territory—part of Western Australia and that part of Queensland shown on our Map. Zone B (allowance £30 per year) also covers a large part of the State. See Map on page 33.

An inquiry at your local Post Office or CPS office will set you right as to whether you may claim either of the Zone allowances.

FARES AND TOOLS

Fares other than excess fares (excess fares are those over and above those normally incurred in getting to and from work) are not income and are not taxable. Excess fares may be claimed as a deduction.

Tool allowance is income but if the amount of tool allowance paid is shown separately on your tax certificate or tax sheet you may claim as a deduction the TOTAL amount shown. However, if the amount is not shown separately on your tax certificate or sheet you may claim £10 only. To claim a deduction of more than the amount shown on your certificate you must list all tools bought and attach receipts.

COUNTRY ALLOWANCE

The country allowance position is as follows:

● Where the country allowance has been paid in CASH the total amount which has been paid, and which should be shown on your

00072

Tax Certificate, is shown by you as income under Item 3 on the second page of your return. Then and under Item 23 of your return you claim as a deduction the total amount received in country allowance LESS £1 per week for each week the allowance has been received.

(For example, had the country allowance been £6 per week for 10 weeks or £60 in all you would show that £60 in Item 3 of your return. Then in Item 23 you would claim £50 (that is, 10 weeks at £5) as a deduction.)

● Where the country allowance is not paid in CASH because the employer provides the board (his option under the Award) the total value of the board provided (this must not exceed in value the country allowances laid down in our Award) is added once again to the Tax Certificate and is shown by the worker as income under Item 3 on his tax return. Then, and similar to the above, the worker claims as a deduction (under Item 23)—the total value of the board LESS £1 per week for every week the employer had provided board.

Actually then and in brief you finish up paying tax on £1 per week for every week you either received country allowance or for which the employer provided board.

You should always insist that the employer shows on your Certificate the country allowance paid or the value of the board (which must not exceed the country allowances). You should also make sure that you claim the deductions to which you are entitled under Item 23.

All this may sound a bit complicated but two or three readings will clarify the position.

BUILDING WORKERS' INDUSTRIAL UNION

(A.S.C. & J.)

Paste This in your Award Book

or make the alterations in your Book

SINCE your Award Booklet was published we have, in company with other unions, succeeded in securing some, though insufficient, adjustment of Income Tax and Sickness and Unemployment Benefits, as well as increased tax deductions for upkeep of tools of trade.

● The weekly tax instalments which can be deducted from your wages from November, 1957, are as set out on the back of this leaflet.

● We hope to succeed in securing further tax relief.

Incidentally, next year, 1958, is the year during which we believe that we can get rid of the Menzies Government and its "Sock the Worker" policy, as it is Election year.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND SICKNESS BENEFITS

Note on page 49 of your Book that these benefits have been increased to:

● Single man or married man without dependent wife—£3/5/- per week.

● Married man with dependent wife but NO children—£5/12/6 per week.

● Married man with dependent wife and children—£6/2/6 per week.

We are pushing now to have the higher rates operate immediately.

AGE PENSIONS

Note on pages 54 to 56 that Age and Invalid pension rate is now £4/7/6 per week.

AGE TAX ALLOWANCE

● Note on page 31 that a single worker over 65 may now earn £410 per year without paying tax.

● In the case of a married worker over 65 with a dependent wife over 60, £819 per year (£15/15/- per week) may be earned.

TAX DEDUCTION FOR UPKEEP OF TOOLS

● Note on page 27 to alter the amount of £10 to a £20 deduction.

SCAFFOLDING

● Note on page 23 of your Book that all scaffold planking must not be less than 18 inches wide, two 9 x 1½ planks.

NOTE: If you earn, say, £17/10/-, just halve the difference between the tax on £17 and £18, and add it to the £17 rate.

PERMISSABLE INCOME

You are now permitted to earn an extra £2 per week without in any way affecting the amount of Unemployment or Sickness Benefit you should receive.

B.W.I.U. EFFICIENCY

This leaflet is another practical example of efficient, speedy B.W.I.U. Service.

The Budget was published on September 4th; your leaflet published on September 5th, and on its way to members' homes on September 6th. No other union in Australia did this.

Yours fraternally,
G. M. DAWSON,
State Secretary.

September 5, 1957.

REMEMBER THESE POINTS!

DESPITE REPEATED WARNINGS from us many members are still falling for the "no tax" racket. But it is illegal for an employer to pay wages tax free with the result that workers who fall for the "no tax" racket have no legal redress if the boss fails to provide tax stamps or a tax certificate.

So remember this! If you can force the boss to pay above the award make sure that he takes out tax stamps each week on a gross amount which less tax would give you the amount of wages agreed on.

Make sure that you collect your tax stamps or certificates when you leave the job or when you are dismissed. If the employer hasn't come to light by the time you should fill in your return, send it in and tell the taxation department that your employer didn't come across with the stamps. The tax people will then hunt him down. This means that you should keep a record of your earnings with employers you have reason to distrust.

Don't wait until you leave a job before reporting an award breach. The longer an award breach is condoned the harder it is to rectify. It is also important to remember that the law lays down time limits within which complaints must be lodged.

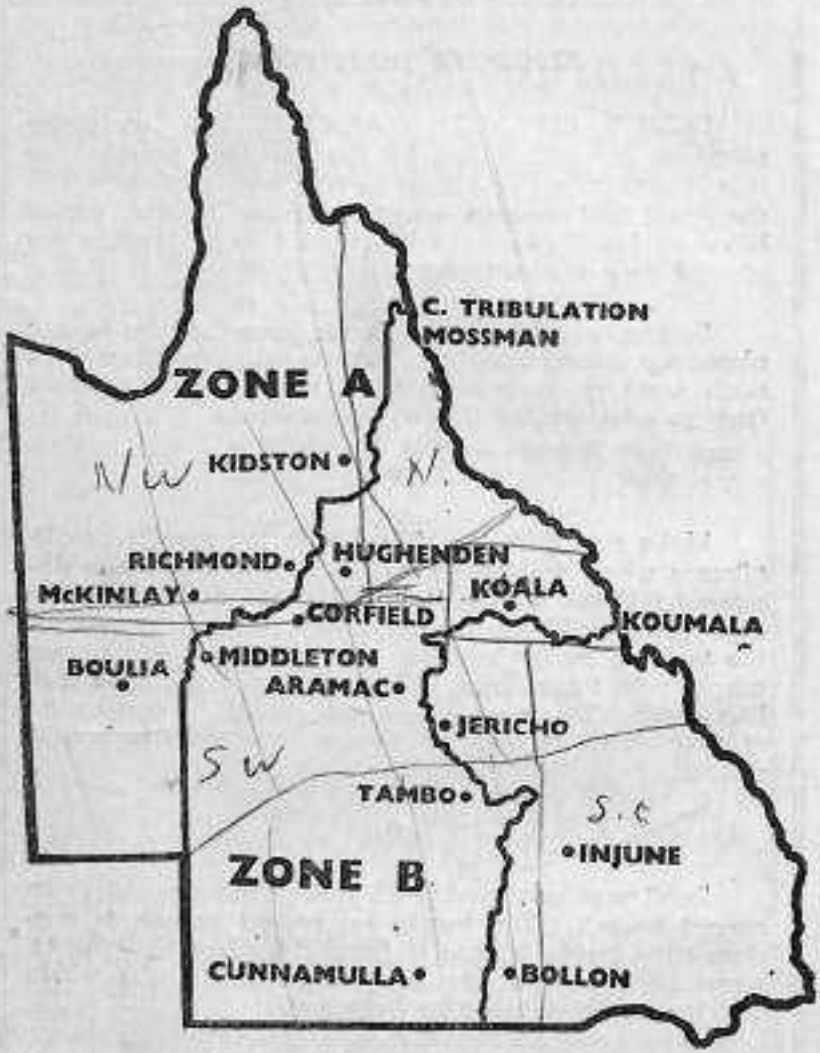
Insist that your employer obey the law and clearly set out all payments and deductions on your pay envelope or separate voucher. Deductions for any purpose other than tax are illegal without your permission. If you have any complaints contact the union or local secretary. Clearly outline commencement of employment, date of termination, amount of wages paid, name and address of employer. Send also any other facts which you think are relevant.

00077



● Above is a map which shows the two Taxation Zones in Queensland, namely Zone A and Zone B. If you live in Zone A you are entitled to a taxation deduction of £180 per year. If you live in Zone B you are entitled to a deduction of £30 per year.

● You may apply for a proportion of the deduction if you have lived in the particular Zone for only portion of a year. Should you be not sure whether you are in a Taxation Zone, then inquire at the nearest Post Office.

Attention Aged Members!

SPECIAL taxation concessions are available to workers 65 years of age and over and our members in that group should carefully read the material below.

● The special taxation concessions are available only to persons who have lived in Australia during the whole of the year of income and they apply only to a man 65 years of age or more at the end of the year of income and to a woman 60 years or more.

● If the income of a single worker 65 years and over does not exceed £390 for the year (that is £7/10/- per week), then such a person pays no tax.

● If the income of a married worker 65 years and over who has a wholly dependent wife who is 60 years of age or over does not exceed £780 (that is £15 per week) then such a worker pays NO tax.

Reverting to the single worker who is 65 or over: If the income is between £390 and £434 the tax payable is limited to 9/20ths of the excess over £390. For example, if such a worker earned £400 he would pay 9/20ths of £10 or £4/10/-.

Where the income of a married worker over 65 who has a wife over 60 is between £780 (£15 per week) and £1030 (£19/16/- per week) the tax payable is limited to 9/20ths of the excess over £780.

In all cases the term 'income' for the purposes of the age allowance refers to the gross income reduced only by expenses of earning the income. Concessional deductions must be disregarded.

Persons claiming the taxation concession for aged persons should carefully complete the statement of the first page of the Taxation Return.

And if your income is beyond £780 you should work out just how much tax you would pay normally (that is on your income less concessional deductions) and compare it with the tax you would pay under the age allowance, for in some cases you would pay more tax under the age allowance than you would normally.

However if you are 65 or over and your wife is 60 or over and you haven't earned more than £15 per week through the year you are completely in the clear and you PAY NO TAX.

FAIR RENTS ACT

Advice on Evictions

SOME landlords may be alright—the majority will push you around if you let them. Here, then, is some useful information.

Question: I am being charged, I consider, an exorbitantly high rent, but my landlord refuses to consider any reduction—what do I do?

Answer: Apply to the Fair Rents Court for a fair rental determination on your premises.

You would need to either represent yourself, or have representation at such determination. Should you be successful and a lower rent than what you have been paying is determined—then the landlord cannot legally charge more than such determination.

Q: If I win a lower rent and the landlord verbally gives me notice to quit, what do I do?

A: Ignore any such verbal notice—and stay put.

Q: If, then, the landlord serves notice on me in writing to quit what then?

A: Stay put and get ready to take steps to resist his intentions. The landlord may apply to the Court to obtain an eviction order. Here, again, you would need to be represented in resisting such application.

The landlord now has the job in front of him, especially if as a result of your previous application the Court had determined a lower rental than previously charged.

Q: Can the landlord give me notice to vacate the premises as he is selling the property?

A: No. The property must be sold subject to the tenancy.

Q: In the case of the property being sold, am I bound to hold the house or flat I am renting open for access to all and sundry prospective buyers for tours of inspection?

A: No. You can, if there is no mutual agreement reached between the landlord and yourself, bail up and refuse entry for any such inspection.

Q: In the case of the property having been sold, can the new owner give me a few week's notice to vacate the premises?

A: No. The new owner must be in possession of the property six months before he can commence to proceed through the usual channels of giving the tenant notice to vacate the premises.

Q: In the case of my landlord dying and the property being left to another member of his family, does the new owner have to be in possession six months before he can give me notice to vacate?

A: No. Such new owner would be a "Successor in Title" and would have a "like right" as the previous owner.

00080

Q: Does the onus rest on the landlord to visit me to collect the rent?

A: No. Failing mutual agreement of arrangement, the onus is placed on the tenant, who at all times must seek out the landlord and pay the rent.

Q: Can the landlord require me to vacate the premises on the basis that he intends to carry out alterations?

A: The only real way the landlord can get you out is "If you are damaging the premises"—"If you are not paying the rent"—"If you are using the premises for illegal purposes."

● Only the Court can order eviction, even for purposes of alterations to premises.

Q: I am married with a small child, and can't get anywhere to live. I know of a place that is to let, but the owner won't have children—what can I do?

A: Get the flat without the child; produce the child after you have gained tenancy. The landlord would then have a most difficult task to get you out because of the fact of having a child.

● The B.W.I.U. has found that courteous advice to tenants is readily obtainable at the Fair Rents Division of the Prices Department, 1st Floor, Old Town Hall Arcade, Queen Street, Brisbane. If you think you are being imposed on by your landlord, do not hesitate to write or call on them for advice.

"WHAT ABOUT A WAGE RISE FOR US?"

WORKERS ACCOMMODATION ACT

AS many workers are not clear on the relationship between the Building Trades Award and the Workers Accommodation Act this section of our booklet will be of particular value to those in remote areas.

In our award it is clearly laid down that when work is situated away from suitable accommodation the employer MUST supply tents with sleeping and living accommodation therein at least equal to the standards laid down in the Workers Accommodation Act.

However it must be clearly understood that the Workers Accommodation Act applies ONLY when the employer does not supply board and accommodation of the type usually provided under the Building Trade Award.

Thus we shall be referring only to those cases where through isolation, remoteness etc. the employer cannot supply the usual board and accommodation.

MAIN POINTS

Here are the main requirements on tents laid down in the Workers Accommodation Act.

● For one man only the tent must be no smaller than 8 ft. x 10 ft. It must have a fly of not less than 10 ft. x 12 ft. Two men camping together must have a tent of not less than 10 ft. x 12 ft. with a fly of not less than 12 ft. x 14 ft. There can be no more than two men in a tent and if there are more than two men on the job then more tents must be found.

STRETCHERS — PILLOWS

● All stretchers must be supplied free by the employer and they shall be of good quality. The mattress shall be a minimum of 6 ft. 4 ins. long, 4 ins. deep and not less than 2 ft. 6 ins. wide. It must be filled with good quality ticking. Pillows (of good quality and clean) must also be supplied free.

● Workers living in tents must not eat in such tents and another tent or suitable structure must be provided by the boss for eating purposes. Yet another and separate tent must be provided for cooking purposes.

(Tents used for sleeping or dining must not remain in the one position for more than 21 days—it is up to you to see that this necessary health protection measure is rigidly carried out.)

If the employer supplies tent, stretcher, mattress, pillows, etc., he still has to pay the country allowance laid down in the Building Trade Award. Country allowance is not paid only when full and suitable board and accommodation is given.

STOVES — RANGES

The employer also has the responsibility of supplying a cooking stove or range (having an oven of which the inside measurements are not less than 14 ins. x 14 ins. x 16 ins.) in cases where there are eight or less than eight men employed. Where more than eight are employed it would be as well to write us for the full details on cooking needs.

LIGHTING IS FREE

Lighting for tents etc. must be free and shall be efficient. Where possible electric light should be provided—failing that, kerosene pressure lights must be supplied. So if you put up with smoky kero lamps it's your own fault.

SHOWERS

On washing facilities the employer must:

● Provide SHOWERS (one for each six workers or part thereof). WASHBASINS (one to each four workers or part thereof), WASHTUBS (one to every two workers or part thereof) PLUS one COPPER and STAND to every 10 workers or part thereof.

The employer must also provide:

COOLERS

● A fly proof water drip cooler (that is, the bush cooler) or cool box (that is, the charcoal cooler) not less than 2 ft. x 2 ft. x 2 ft. inside measurements for food. Where there are more than six people to be cooked for the cooler must not be less in size than 3 ft. x 3 ft. x 2 ft. inside measurements.

CLOSETS

Closets in the proportion of one seat to every 10 workers or part thereof must be provided—same to be flyproofed, waterproof and at least seven feet high with a door and in clean condition. Adequate and free supplies of disinfectant shall be available at all times. Rubbish tins with close fitting lids shall also be supplied.

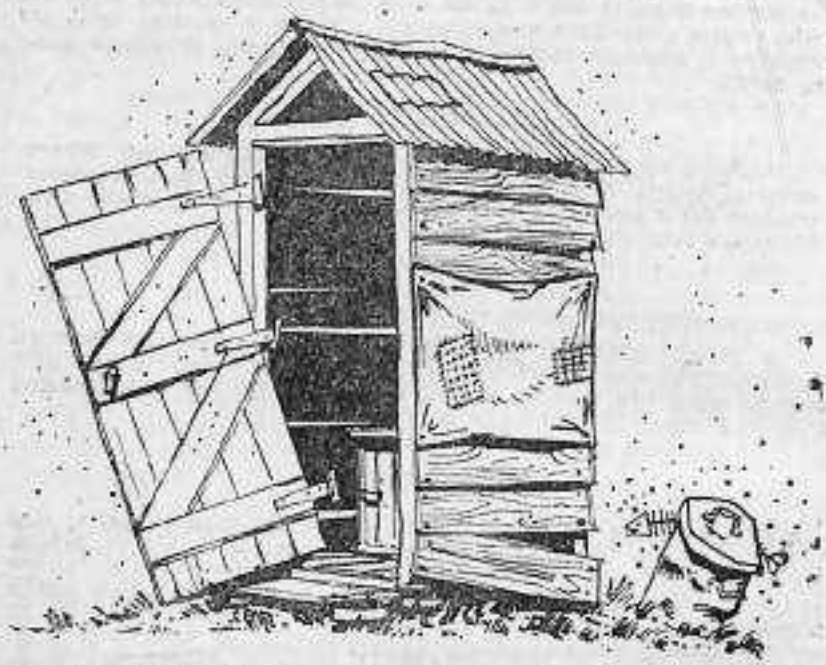
These conditions are of course nothing out of the bag and the Union is continually seeking to improve them. But if you land on the job and the accommodation is not up to scratch the best place to tidy the question up is on the Job. If that fails, contact us—but it is much better to demand your rights (laid down in this section) on the Job and see that you get them.

IMPORTANT

UNLESS the employer supplies all meals free—such meals to be cooked by a cook and not by the men on the job—together with tents, and full sleeping facilities, country allowance must be paid WITHOUT any deduction whatever. This means that when employers supply tents etc., but where the men buy their own food and do their own cooking, the country allowance must be paid.

00083

Health



THE best place of course to settle the matter of job conditions is on the job. Helpful to that is a knowledge of the various laws and regulations governing working conditions—PLUS unity and action on the job to ensure that you always work under the best possible conditions.

Very important to the health of a worker are the Sanitary Regulations which although varying slightly in different parts of the State are fundamentally the same in principle.

Below we publish important points from the Brisbane City Council regulations on sanitary conveniences. They are lawfully binding on your employer—see that he carries them out.

Temporary Lavatories

"As soon as any employee or other person commences work on any site or on any building or works, the employer shall erect an earth closet for the use of employees and shall forthwith order a pan for such earth closet." (City Council Regulations).

The closet shall at all times be available to employees and there must be regular disposal of nightsoil.

Construction

The earth closet must be of sound weatherproof walls and shall be substantially constructed. There must be complete privacy and the walls shall be at least 6 ft. 6 ins. in height at the lowest part.

There shall be a door on the closet capable of being fastened on the inside. The pan enclosure shall be a complete cabinet and it shall be completely fly proof. The closet shall be well ventilated—there must be a well-fitted vent pipe and the closet must be so built as to admit free circulation of air and to prevent the harbourage of rats and other vermin under such closet.

Number of Closets

The number of closets to be provided by the employer is determined of course by the number of men on the job. One closet, says the City Council Regulations, shall be provided for each 20 men on the job. Should a separate urinal be considered necessary by the men this can be taken up immediately with the B.W.I.U. and that body will then take the matter up with the City Council.

● And in any case the Factories and Shops Act provides that a urinal or trough must be provided where between 5 and 25 men are employed.

● Such then are the facts. Help us to help you by always ensuring that these minimum standards are fulfilled.

GENERAL INFORMATION

● Clause 10 (24) provides a prosperity loading of 27/6 per week above the wage rates of other employees for those employees in meatworks employed by the specific employers named in the Sub-Clause.

YOU MUST NOT SUPPLY THESE

● Employees must NOT supply power driven tools, steel tapes, cramps, glue brushes, bars, hacksaws, fibro cutters. All such tools AND ALL TOOLS NOT PART OF A NORMAL KIT MUST BE SUPPLIED BY THE EMPLOYER.

5/8 DISABILITIES

● Members should carefully read Clause 3, Sub-Clause (20) the definition of Building Construction should the employer attempt to take advantage of Clause 10 Sub-Clause (1) (d).

STATUTORY HOLIDAYS

● A number of Court decisions declare that refusal to work on a holiday at double time rates could mean non-payment for the holiday.

LONG SERVICE

● Long service leave is counted as part of service for purposes of calculating annual leave. For example if you were off for three months on long service leave you have to work nine months only on your return before your annual leave is due.

THESE BENEFITS ARE PAID TO FINANCIAL MEMBERS

YOUR UNION not only provides a very good service on wage questions, job conditions, "compo" and other important matters but it also pays a number of monetary benefits to members.

But to obtain benefits you must ALWAYS be FINANCIAL. Irrespective of how your officials may feel personally about your plight they (the officials) are prohibited first by the rules and secondly by our auditors' insistence that benefits must NOT be paid to unfinancial members.

Don't take the chance—keep financial.

Now here are your rights and the conditions governing them on union benefits.

TOOL BENEFIT

MAXIMUM PAYMENT £20: Fire and/or theft loss covered. Members claiming must have had 12 months membership or more and must have been financial at time of loss. Maximum benefit may be paid only once in each year and is not paid in money, but to the firm from whom the tools are replaced.

● Claimants must lodge a special form obtainable from the union with the sub-branch secretary and this form must be witnessed by a JP. The loss must be immediately reported to the police and a declaration to that effect made on the form obtained from the union.

Apprentices who have been in the union for 12 months or more may claim tool benefit also, but they shall be paid only half the amount allowed to adult members. It will be appreciated that this is necessary because of the low union dues paid by apprentices.

FUNERAL ALLOWANCE

MAXIMUM PAYMENT £20: Paid to the widow or next of kin of a deceased member subject to this condition: the deceased member must not have been 50 years of age when joining the union and must have been financial on death.

On the death of a member who has been in the union 12 months the funeral allowance is £1. The allowance then increases at the rate of £1 for each year of membership but the maximum payable is £20.

OTHER FUNDS

CONTINGENT FUND: This fund is controlled by the S.M.C. and is used for further assistance to our members and other organisations. Application for assistance from this fund must be recommended by the Sub-Branch on behalf of the member or organisation.

DISTRESS FUND: All sub-branches carry a Distress Fund to help members in distress. Applications which are limited to £3 on any one application must be made to your sub-branch secretary, and full details must be given.

This fund is NOT an Unemployment Fund and it will be appreciated that (like other funds) great care is exercised in its administration.

AGED AND INFIRM MEMBERS

MEMBERS over 65 years of age, or members who have had 25 years continuous membership, who through infirmity are unable to work continuously at the trade may retain membership by paying 2/- per half year in advance. Such members shall be entitled to receive funeral benefit only—provided that this does not apply to members who were over 55 years of age when joining the union. Journals and other literature are sent to aged members.

DON'T FALL FOR PIECEWORK

OR FOR LABOUR ONLY JOBS

00087

● DINGY LIGHTING
● DUSTY CONDITIONS
● DIRTY TOILETS

DONT PUT UP WITH THIS

THE Factories and Shops Acts provide for the health and welfare of workers in factories and shops—in particular joinery factories.

However, while the Acts are very good, it is necessary for all workers to ensure by organisation on the job that the boss is "kept up to scratch" on his obligations.

If you believe that breaches of the Acts are taking place contact your union immediately.

Here are some of the main things which the Acts say the employer must install.

DUST EXHAUST

● An efficient exhaust system for the elimination of dust. Measures to provide air and light in proper measured quantities and in strict accordance with the high standards laid down in the Acts.

SANITATION

● One water closet (i.e. sewerage or septic) for each 25 male employees. One urinal stall or trough (not less than two feet in length) where between 10 and 25 workers are employed and two troughs, etc., where between 24 and 50 males are employed.

● One earth closet (where there is no septic or sewerage) for every 15 employees or part thereof up to 90 employees and thereafter one closet to every 20 employees. One urinal stall or trough must also be installed where between 5 and 25 workers are employed. Two must be installed for between 24 and 50 males.

LOCKERS

Every factory unless exempted by the Labour and Industry Department must provide an individual locker for each employee.

DRESSING

Dressing rooms with seating accommodation and with a minimum floor area of from four square feet to seven square feet per employee must be provided by factory owners.

MEAL ROOM

Where there are more than six workers in a factory a fit and proper meal room must be provided. Such room shall not be used for any other purpose. Boiling water shall be supplied and flyproof refuse receptacles installed. Such dining room shall have a minimum floor area of not less than 10 square feet per person. No factory employee shall be compelled to take his meal at his bench or in any covered working section of the factory.

00088

WASHING

Washing conveniences must be supplied by the employer. Where more than 20 persons are employed a bubbler type of drinking fountain with water at no more than 75 degrees Fahrenheit shall be provided. Such fountain must have a mouth guard.

FIRST AID

In every factory where more than 10 workers are employed, suitable first aid and ambulance equipment must be supplied. In a very large factory a casualty room must be built and fully equipped. In factories where more than 20 workers are employed there shall be a qualified first-aid attendant who shall be readily available to attend to injuries.

There are many other good features in the Acts but it is essential to always remember that organised action on the job, together with union activity, is necessary before employers will observe the law.

TREATMENT OF SHOCK

SHOCK is a condition which results from accidents, and is of the utmost importance in First Aid, as it is a common cause of death when the patient is not killed outright.

● Arrest severe haemorrhage, if present. Lay the patient on his back on a blanket, carefully steadying and supporting any injured part.

● Keep his head and shoulders low, turn his head to one side, and raise his lower limbs unless contra-indicated by the nature of the injuries.

● Loosen all clothing about the neck, chest, and waist, and ensure a free circulation of air. In particular, remove all wet clothing.

● Examine for and prevent aggravation of injuries and treat the patient. While the pulse remains feeble, apply vigorous friction to the injured limbs on their inner side towards the heart.

● Keep the patient warm by covering him with coats, blankets, etc., but do not overheat him to the point of sweating, as this reduces the fluids in the body, and increases shock.

● Stimulate the patients by such suitable methods as are available. (Alcohol must not be given unless ordered by a Doctor).

● Nothing must be given by the mouth when injury to an internal organ is suspected or when the patient is unconscious. Take the patient to a Doctor or to Hospital.

Apprentices

THESE PAGES CONCERN YOU

WHILST apprentices' wages and conditions have been much improved as a result of the BWIU's and some other unions' activities, they are still far short of that which the BWIU and other unions demand.

All members should take the greatest possible interest in apprentices—help them to win better wages and conditions—encourage them to join our union so that they will be good unionists from the word "go." Tell them to contact us if in trouble.

Our apprentice members can find out their wage at any time by taking the following percentages of the tradesman's rate at the particular time.

- First year 30 per cent.
- Second year 37 per cent.
- Third year 47 per cent.
- Fourth year 67 per cent.
- Fifth year 82 per cent.

Sick Pay

Apprentices are entitled to two weeks sick leave each year. If not taken, the sick leave accumulates but NO MORE than FOUR weeks may be taken in any one year. When the apprentice has completed his indentures, and provided he remains with the same employer, any sick leave he may have accumulated remains as a credit and may be taken out when necessary.

For absences beyond two days, it is necessary to produce a doctor's certificate or some other evidence satisfactory to the employer. For absences of two days and less, a certificate is not necessary, but it would be wise for the apprentice (or someone acting for him) to inform the employer that he cannot come to work. A letter or 'phone call is usually sufficient.

Holiday Pay

Apprentices are entitled to two weeks holiday each year. Since apprentices cannot be stood down and must always work under the supervision of tradesmen, this means that if the job closes down at Xmas (and your holidays aren't due) you must be paid for the period you are stood down.

Cannot Be Sacked

The employer cannot sack an apprentice but he can suspend him. Should an employer take the latter action he must immediately apply for endorsement of his action to the Apprenticeship Committee.

00090

As your union has two representatives on the main Brisbane Committee, this guarantees that if the action of the employer has been unjust, the utmost opposition will be offered.

National Service Training

Our Union has pressed the Governments to make National Service Training part of the apprenticeship of all apprentices.

We have succeeded in having the Menzies Government amend the National Service Act to provide that such training shall count as part of apprenticeship.

At the time of publication of this book the Queensland Government had yet to amend the law in Queensland. We are, however, confident that by the time you read this book the Queensland law shall also provide that National Service Training shall count as part of apprenticeship. All apprentices should check with us on this matter.

At present Government Departments will make up wages for 16 days if the N.S.T. pay is lower than the normal wage.

Allowances

● Apprentices must be paid the same allowances as tradesmen in all cases where allowances are paid under the Building Trade Award: For example, fares, country allowance, meal allowance, must all be paid at the same rate as that paid to the tradesman.

Tool allowances to carpenter apprentices are as follows:

In the first, second and third years tools to the value of £9/12/6d. per year shall be purchased by the employer and supplied to the apprentice. Should an apprentice be employed by an employer for a lesser period than one year the employer shall purchase and supply to the apprentice tools of a pro rata value.

During the fourth and fifth years of training the tool allowance to apprentices is the same as that for the tradesmen.

Apprentices in joinery establishments get tools to the value of £7/17/6 in the first three years and thereafter the same tool allowance as tradesmen.

Not Labourers

● Apprentices should not allow employers to use them as labourers and if this occurs, apprentices should contact the union or the Apprenticeship Office.

● Apprentices 16 years and under are not allowed to lift weights above 28 lbs. (if a rigid article) or 24 lbs. (if not rigid but bulky). Apprentices 16 years to 18 years are not allowed to lift more than 35 lbs. (if a rigid article) or 28 lbs. in other cases. These conditions are laid down in the Factories and Shops Act.

Long Service Leave

The period of apprenticeship—provided it is served with the one employer—is counted as service for calculation of long service leave purposes (see special section on long service leave).

00091

College

Time to get to college must be allowed by the employer and apprentices must be allowed to have sufficient time to have their meal break before going to college.

Overtime

During the first three years of their apprenticeship, apprentices shall not work more than six hours overtime in any one week—except in cases of emergency. In such cases notification of the emergency must be sent to the Apprenticeship Committee and approval obtained.

The proportion of apprentices to tradesmen shall not exceed one apprentice to every two fully paid journeymen or fraction of two; provided that an employer working at the trade shall be considered a fully paid journeyman.

Probation

The service of an apprentice on probation may be terminated by the giving of one week's notice to the probationer, by the employer, or to the employer by the probationer, or in lieu thereof one week's wages shall be paid or forfeited, except where such termination is caused through the probationer's disobedience or dishonesty.

00092

STRIPPED of all the legal verbiage here are the main points from the long service leave legislation under the Arbitration Act which covers building workers, together with some notes on the Public Service Regulations.

Railway Long Service Leave is covered by By-Law 690 and all employees are entitled to a copy of such By-Law. A summary of entitlements under By-Law 690 is also shown in this material.

Long Service Leave now covers ALL workers in Queensland whether employed under Federal or State Awards—or under no Award at all.

Not On Industry Basis

Biggest single weakness in Queensland's long service leave legislation is that the leave is based solely on length of service to the same employer or the same business—and not to the industry.

Thus the majority of building workers will never get long service leave (unless we can force changes in the Act) because they have had many employers over the years.

Main Provisions

Here are the main provisions on long service leave:—

● To get the full 13 weeks long service leave it is necessary to have had 20 years continuous employment with the same employer or with the same business.

● Apprenticeship is counted as service provided the apprentice continues to be employed by the same employer he had during his apprenticeship.

● Service with the armed forces during World War II and the C.C.C. counts as service, but only if the person concerned went back to the employer he had before going into the army or C.C.C. Korean, Japanese (i.e. occupation forces) and Malayan service are not counted for long service leave.

Breaks in Continuity

Absences from work due to stand-downs, slackness of trade, strikes and dismissals DO NOT break continuity of service PROVIDED the worker is re-engaged by his original employer. But such breaks ARE NOT counted as service and the time off must be made up.

Absences on account of illness or injury (i.e. time off on compensation) DO NOT break continuity and it is certain that up to three months such absences DO NOT count as service either. Beyond three months there is doubt although it is our view that service is not broken even beyond three months.

Occasional absences from work (say 3 or 4 days off) break neither continuity nor service provided that there is clear proof that the employer gave permission for the absence. But always make sure you have proof that permission has been given.

But governing all of the above is that the worker must have been re-engaged by the employer he had previously.

Pro Rata Leave

Recently the Arbitration Act was amended to provide that if a worker is dismissed or IF HE HIMSELF terminates his employment after 10 years continuous service, he is entitled to pro-rata long service leave with a minimum of 6½ weeks after 10 years.

- Dismissal for alleged misconduct would not constitute good ground for an employer refusing to meet the pro-rata payment, as the pro-rata leave is given for satisfactory service that the employee has already given, irrespective of the circumstances of his dismissal or termination of service.

Holidays Not Included

Payment for the long service leave due must be at the actual rate being received by the worker in all cases where such rate is in excess of the Award. In other cases payment is made on the base wage rate plus sick pay. Tool allowance does not have to be included.

However, the period of long service leave does NOT include any statutory holidays which fall in the period of the leave: A big "touch" for a number of holidays (e.g. Easter or Christmas) could well fall within the leave period.

Continuing Offence

Failure by an employer to pay proportionate long service leave is a continuing offence and a complaint alleging a breach of the Arbitration Act (and in our case the Award also) need NOT be made within the usual period of 12 months.

In fact there now appears to be no definite limit to the period within which a prosecution can be launched, although the legislation does provide that a claim for payment of long service leave must be made within three years of the date when the long service leave became due and payable.

- The amending legislation which reduced the pro-rata period to 10 years instead of 15 years as previously, is retrospective to November 1, 1955.

Lump Payments — Death

Long Service Leave must be taken when due, and cash cannot be accepted as an equivalent—in short, you cannot take the cash and keep on working. The B.W.I.U. of course, would oppose such a procedure even if the worker and employer agreed: for the quickest way to lose hard-won conditions is to agree to the breaching of them.

Should a worker on long service leave die, or should he die with any long service leave at all due to him, then all monies due must be paid to his dependants or the agent of such dependants.

Most employers pay long service leave in one payment, but unfortunately, there is nothing in the Arbitration Act or our award to stop an employer paying the amount due by weekly payments. But the latter must be done by a cheque sent to the worker's home.

Taxation

Long service leave payments are fully taxable (except under certain conditions outlined later) and if a lump payment is made the normal procedure is to multiply what your weekly tax deduction would be by 13 and deduct the total from the lump payment. In short, long service leave would be 13 weeks at the wage being received and the tax to be deducted would be 13 times the weekly tax on such wage.

● It is quite wrong for employers to calculate the tax on the total amount of the leave.

However should you receive your long service leave on RETIREMENT (in brief if you do not intend returning to work) then you pay income tax on ONLY 5 per cent of the total sum received for long service leave.

LSL and Govt. Workers

Members are frequently confused between the long service leave provisions in our Award and the Public Service Acts and Railway By-Laws etc., which govern the employment of workers in the Railways, Public Works Department, Housing Commission, etc.

On this, the broad position is that if you work for the Government (P.W.D., Q.H.C., etc.) you are entitled to one week's accrued long service leave each year. The Railways have special long service leave conditions of three months after 15 years service, four and one half months after 20 years, six months after 25 years.

A very bad feature of the Public Service Act and Railway By-Laws in respect to long service leave is that service with the Commonwealth Government does not count as part of the qualifying period for long service leave although the Commonwealth Government does count service with the State when calculating period of service for Commonwealth recreational leave.

10 Year Period Applies

● Due to union pressure the recent amendment reducing the qualifying period for long service leave to 10 years for workers in private industry applies also to Government Departments in those cases where the worker leaves or is dismissed after 10 years service.

However the amount of long service leave paid is that provided under the Arbitration Act and not that provided under the Public Service Act or the Railways By-Laws. For example a Q.H.C. worker leaving after 10 years service would get only 6½ weeks long service leave (i.e. 10/20ths of 13 weeks) and not 10 weeks (i.e. a week a year as under the Public Service Regulations.)

Should further information be required on long service leave provisions in Government Departments it would be best to contact the B.W.I.U. as such provisions are fairly complicated and in many cases inquiries need individual examination.

Should Make Angry

This material should be useful for those who stand a chance of getting long service leave under the present restricted legislation.

It should make those who at present have no chance of getting leave even more indignant.

● What is required is for all to demand with one voice that long service leave is the right of ALL workers and that it should be paid on THE BASIS OF SERVICE TO AN INDUSTRY and not to a particular employer.

COMMONWEALTH LONG SERVICE LEAVE

LONG service leave provisions under the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act are far superior to those in the Queensland Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Workers covered by the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act are broadly speaking all employees of the Commonwealth, both temporary and permanent; the Act would cover therefore building workers with Commonwealth Works, the PMG and other such Commonwealth authorities.

Service with any State authority (that is, a State Government authority) counts as period of service. This is in sharp contrast to the Queensland legislation on long service leave which precludes service with the Commonwealth being counted for long service leave purposes under the State Act.

Main feature of the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act is that one must remain an employee of the Commonwealth OR BE RETRENCHED to obtain its benefits. In short if you "snatch the job" or be "discharged on account of unsatisfactory conduct" you get no leave. The only exception to the above is that you can resign after fifteen years service and get all leave due, or you can resign and still get your leave if you have turned sixty years.

Here are the main provisions of Commonwealth legislation on long service leave or as they call it—Furlough.

● Where the period of service is at least 15 years long service leave or furlough is granted at the rate of three tenths of one month for each completed year of service. Thus leave due after 15 years would be 18 weeks (that is 3/10ths multiplied by 15 which equals 4½ months or 18 weeks). For each year of service beyond 15 years an additional 3/10ths of a month (9 days) per year is added to the 18 weeks.

WHERE 15 YEARS NOT UP

Under certain conditions it is not necessary to have 15 years service in hand to obtain long service leave or furlough. The leave which may be granted for shorter periods of service AND the conditions under which it may be granted are:

● Where the period of service of the Commonwealth employee is NOT LESS than 8 years but is less than 12 years—three months.

● Where the period of service of the Commonwealth employee is not less than 12 years—four months.

CONDITIONS NECESSARY

However, governing the above is that the employee must have ceased to be a Commonwealth employee (otherwise than by discharge on account of unsatisfactory service) on or subsequent to his attaining the age of 60 years OR HIS RETRENCHMENT.

This means that a Commonwealth employee dismissed after 8 years for other than unsatisfactory conduct would be entitled to three months leave if he had between 8 and 12 years service and four months if he had between 12 and 15 years service.

But if the worker left the job on his own accord after 8 years he would get nothing—neither would he get anything if he left the job before the 8 years was up—excepting under the conditions laid down in the fourth paragraph of this article.

Thus, generally speaking, one must remain an employee of the Commonwealth or be dismissed or retrenched by the Commonwealth or have reached 60 years of age to get the leave and it is due only then after 8 years.

All You Need to Know On Dole And Sickness

JOBS — NOT THE DOLE has long been a very real slogan of the working people. This is because the system under which we live and work—Capitalism—periodically enters economic crises of varying severity.

Thus it is essential that alongside our demand for full employment on better and better rates of pay and under continually improving job conditions we must also raise the demand for higher unemployment benefits.

Certainly we should insist on obtaining our FULL rights under the present inadequate Act. Here are the main things you should know on Unemployment Benefits.

Benefits Payable

● The maximum benefit for a married claimant is £2 10s. a week, with an additional £2 a week for a dependent wife and 5s. a week for one child under 16 years, making a total of £4 15s. a week. In addition, he may have other income of £1 a week, making his total receipts £5 15s. a week.

● The maximum benefit for an unmarried claimant 21 years of age or over is £2 10s. a week, and he may have other income of £1 a week, a total of £3 10s. a week.

● The weekly rates for unmarried claimants under 21 years of age are: 16 years and under 17 years, £1 10s., with other income of 5s., total £1 15s.; 17 years and under 18 years, £1 10s. with other income of 10s., total £2; 18 years and under 21 years, £2, with other income of 15s., total £2 15s.

Effect of Income

Where the income exceeds the appropriate permissible amount the rate of benefit is reduced by the amount of the excess.

For the purposes of the means test for unemployment benefits, the income of the claimant's wife is taken into account, but where the claimant and his (or her) spouse are permanently separated any income received by the spouse may be disregarded.

For both unemployment and sickness benefits the income of the wife also affects the determination of whether the wife is dependent on the claimant for the purpose of payment of additional benefit.

What is Income?

"Income" includes earnings and any other form of income derived from any source whatsoever, also any periodical payment or benefit by way of gift or allowance, but does not include child endowment or other payments in respect of children, a maternity allowance, a war pension (as distinct from a service pension), an amount received in reimbursement of medical, dental or similar expenses actually paid (other than a periodical payment or an accumulation of instalments), Commonwealth hospital and medical benefits including an amount received from a registered benefit organization up to the total amount of fees), pharmaceutical benefits or tuberculosis allowance.

Up to £2 Not Income

In cases of sickness benefit, £2 a week of any payment received from an approved friendly society or other similar approved body in respect of the incapacity for which the benefit is claimed is not counted as income.

Persons Eligible

Men, over 16 and under 65 years, and women, over 16 and under 60 years, who are qualified in other respects, are eligible for unemployment and sickness benefits if they have been resident in Australia for the twelve months immediately preceding the claim.

Unemployment Benefit

UNEMPLOYMENT: To qualify for an Unemployment Benefit a claimant must establish—

- that he is unemployed and that his unemployment is not due to his being a direct participant in a strike;
- that he is capable and willing to undertake suitable work; and
- that he has taken reasonable steps to obtain such work. (Registration with the local Commonwealth District Employment Officer is necessary.)

Sickness Benefit

SICKNESS: To qualify for a Sickness Benefit a claimant must establish—

- that he is temporarily incapacitated for work by reason of sickness or accident; and
- that he has thereby suffered a loss of salary, wages or other income.

Payment of Benefit

Unemployment Benefit is payable from and including the seventh day after the day on which the claimant becomes unemployed or lodges his claim, whichever is the later, and continues only so long as he is able and willing to undertake suitable work and is otherwise qualified.

Sickness Benefit is payable from and including the seventh day after the day on which the claimant becomes incapacitated, provided a claim is lodged within thirteen weeks after that day. If the claim is not lodged within 13 weeks, payment commences from the date on which the claim is lodged except where the Director-General, in special circumstances, decides to pay from an earlier date.

Note This

A claim for workers' compensation made within thirteen weeks after the date of the incapacity may be treated as a claim for sickness benefit for the purpose of determining the date of commencement of benefit.

It is important to claim early. Claims may be made by another person on a claimant's behalf, even if full details are not available. Payment is made weekly by cheque.

Compensation

Pending the determination of a claim for compensation (or damages, etc.), a sickness benefit may be paid without any deduction in respect of the compensation, but the Director-General of Social Services may require the person against whom the beneficiary has a claim to pay to him (the Director-General), out of the compensation, the amount of sickness benefit overpaid in consequence of the compensation entitlement.

PRECAUTIONS AND MEASURES TO BE TAKEN FOR SECURING THE SAFETY OF PERSONS IN CONNECTION WITH ROOFS SHEATHED IN ASBESTOS CEMENT OR OTHER BRITTLE MATERIAL

15A (b) Purlins.—The distance between purlins or roof battens or other immediate supports for corrugated asbestos cement roof sheathing or other brittle material shall be not more than two (2) feet three (3) inches measured centre of one purlin or roof batten or other immediate support to the centre of the next purlin or roof batten or other immediate support. Sheets shall be screwed at all battens. Purlin battens shall be not less than three inches by one and one-half inches pine or hardwood.

All timbers forming the roof frame shall be supported in such manner as to ensure that at all times they will carry the load of workmen and roofing materials imposed upon them.

(c) Spacing of Common Rafters or Principal Rafters.—If the distance between common rafters or principal rafters is greater than four (4) feet—then the size of purlins or roof battens shall be increased proportionately with the spacings of rafters as directed by an inspector to ensure that the maximum safety is obtained.

As an alternative, a wider spacing of purlins may be approved by the inspector up to four (4) feet for "Large Section Sheets" and three (3) feet for "Small Section Sheets," provided that the purlins are first covered with ten (10) gauge steel wire mesh and securely fixed to roofing members. The size of such mesh shall be not greater than twelve (12) inches in length by six (6) inches in width. The wires forming each mesh shall be strongly secured one to the other at each corner of such mesh.

Safety mesh shall be deemed not to conform to this regulation unless such samples of mesh as may be required have been submitted to the inspector and approved by him.

The safety mesh shall be fixed immediately and closely under the roof sheathing without other intervention and so that it rests upon each of the roof members. It shall be free from perceptible sag.

Where a break of continuity in the safety mesh occurs, such mesh shall be effectively joined to preserve continuity.

(d) No person shall place, lay or fix, or cause to be placed, laid or fixed upon any roof structure or part thereof, any roof sheathing of asbestos, cement or other brittle material unless the aforesaid provisions have been complied with.

(2) For the purpose of fixing the asbestos roof sheathing to the purlins or battens, catwalks or planks must be provided for the safety of the workmen.

DEATH, GIFT DUTIES AND WILLS

RESPONDING to many inquiries we publish this information on death duties, gift duties and Wills. There are three different types of death duties.

(1) Probate Duty

● This is chargeable at the rate of £1 per £100 or part thereof on the value of a deceased estate. There is an exemption for the widow and children under 16 to the value of £4,000. For children other than minors the exemption is £1,500.

(2) Succession Duty

● This is chargeable on the benefits which persons derive from another person's death; that is from a legacy or share in an estate or from gifts made by the deceased within a few years prior to death. Rates of duty are:

Value	Widow and infant children	Children over age
Up to £1,500	exempt	exempt
£1,501 to £2,500	exempt	1½%
£2,501 to £4,000	exempt	2½%
£4,001 to £5,000	(a)	3 %
£5,001 to £8,000	5%	5 %

(a) Should a widow and infant children receive benefits outlined in (2) of between £4,001 and £4,250 there is a rebate of 75 per cent on the standard rate of 3 per cent; for between £4,251 and £4,500 a rebate of 50 per cent of 3 per cent; for between £4,500 and £4,750 a rebate of 25 per cent of 3 per cent. The full rate of 3 per cent is paid between £4,750 and £5,000.

(3) Estate Duty

This is payable to the Commonwealth Government but widow and children are exempt up to £5,000.

THE next type of duty we deal with is gift duty. The tables below relate to single gifts only and not to a number of gifts within a period of say one or two years.

Gift Duties

State Govt. Gift Duty	Amount Paid
Less than £1000	Exempt
£1,000 to £2,500	3 per cent
£2,501 to £5,000	5 per cent
Over £5,000	5 per cent and ½ per cent each addit. £2,000

As regards the Commonwealth gift duty is NOT paid on amounts up to £2,000. Between £2,001 and £10,000 duty of 3 per cent is payable.

Please Note This

● When a person dies a statement of assets and liabilities must be rendered to the Commissioner of Stamp Duties if part of the assets consists of land. Thus where there is land in an estate whatever the value of that land may be, Succession Accounts must be lodged.

00100

- Otherwise as will be seen from the above no death duties are payable in an estate if the value of that estate does not exceed £4,000 and passes to a widow and infant children. If the estate passes to children who are over age the exemption from duty is £1,500.

Warning

Now here is a warning. Quite often a person thinking he was about to die has fallen for the advice of "Bush Lawyers" to the effect that he should transfer the property to a relative. But on a property valued at say £3,000 the gift duty to transfer would be £150 (see table) whereas the property could have been transmitted much more cheaply under a Will since no death duty would have been payable.

Make a Will

Members with property are strongly urged to make a Will. Contrary to general belief if a person dies without a Will and leaves a widow and family the widow is not entitled to the full estate, excepting in certain circumstances.

Further, failure to make a Will can involve the children to whom the property is left in quite considerable expenses because a Grant of Administration must be taken out if no Will is left.

Overall our advice is this: If you contemplate making gifts of property or if you suffer a bereavment and wish to know what steps should be taken on the estate get proper advice from either the Public Curator or a solicitor. Make sure you make a Will. Don't try to make your Will on a Will Form bought at the local stationers. Home made Wills cause a lot of trouble. See the Public Curator on this important matter.

(Acknowledgment is made to the Public Curator (Mr. A. Ford) for the valuable material from which this section of our Booklet was drawn.)

PENSIONERS — PLEASE NOTE

We've already given this matter some publicity but more is needed.

- Pensioners (age, invalid and widow) are entitled to return rail passes to any centre within the State each 12 months.
- Second class rail travel is granted and there is no restriction as to the period of absence on the journey.
- Application for free rail travel should be made to the Labour and Industry Department, Treasury Buildings, Brisbane, to permit the bona fides of the applicant being checked and the rail requisitions being sent out by post to the applicant.

YOUR PENSION RIGHTS

MEN are entitled to age pensions at 65 years of age and women at 60 years of age provided the person claiming the pension is a British subject and has lived in Australia or New Zealand for 20 years.

An Australian returned soldier who has had overseas service can obtain a service pension (old age) at 60 years of age.

A British migrant with less than 20 years residence should check with the Social Services Department regarding his rights under the United Kingdom-Australia Reciprocity Agreement.

Invalid Pensions

Invalid pensions are payable to British subjects who:

(1) Are certified permanently incapacitated for work by the Commonwealth Doctor, and (2) Are over 16 years of age, and (3) Have lived in Australia or New Zealand for five years. (A person who did not become permanently incapacitated in Australia must have 20 years residence.)

Rates of Pensions

Rates are the same for invalid and age pensioners, and for men and women. The maximum pension is ~~£208~~ £227/10/0 a year (~~£4 a week~~ £4/7/6 a week).

An invalid pensioner also receives £36 a year (10/- a week) for each child under 16 except the youngest child. A child's allowance of £30 a year (11/6 a week) is paid for the youngest child only.

If the wife of an invalid pensioner is not entitled to a pension in her own right she can receive a wife's allowance of £91 a year (£1/15/- a week).

An age pensioner is not entitled to any payments in respect of his children or a wife who is not eligible herself for pension unless he is permanently incapacitated for work.

Means Test on Income

There is a means test on both income and property. However the following types of income are NOT taken into account when assessing income:—

(i) Income derived from property e.g. rental from flats, interest on bonds.

(ii) Gifts from children or parents.

(iii) Child endowment.

(iv) Friendly Society and Medical Benefits payments.

(v) Union benefits for sickness and old age.

This Property Not Counted

The following types of property are NOT taken into account when assessing pensions.

● The pensioner's permanent home. If you intend to let portion of your home, check your position with the Social Services Dept.

00102

- Furniture and personal effects, including motor vehicles, provided they are not used to produce income.

- Any property which the pensioner does not own but in which he has a life interest only.

- The capital value of an annuity.

In certain circumstances the Social Services Dept. may disregard the value of property owned by a pensioner e.g. cases have been known where a house could not be occupied as a home because of illness, but was still considered as the pensioner's permanent home and was therefore exempt. However, each case is dealt with on its own merits.

How Income Affects Pension

A single pensioner is allowed to have an income from personal exertion, superannuation etc., of £3/10/- per week (£182 a year) without his or her pension being affected. Any excess over £3/10/- a week (£182 a year) is a direct deduction from pension.

As the maximum pension is ~~£4~~ £4 7 6 a week, no pension is payable if a person's regular income is ~~£8/10/-~~ £7 17 6 a week.

Joint Income

In the case of a husband and wife who are not living apart, the incomes of husband and wife are NOT calculated separately.

The total incomes of both husband and wife are added together and divided by two. For example, if a husband has a superannuation of £7 a week and the wife earns £1 per week their total income would be £8 a week. Divided by two this would be £4 a week each. Pension, or pension and wife allowance would be reduced on this basis by 10/- a week each. This method of calculation applies even if only one is a pensioner.

- No pension can possibly be paid if the total regular income of husband and wife exceeds ~~£15~~ £15 15 0 a week.

Effect of Children

When calculating "income" in assessing pension allowance is made for children maintained by the pensioner. A single person maintaining children under 16 years of age is considered to have his or her income reduced by 10/- a week for each child. In the case of a married couple it is the total income of husband and wife which is considered reduced by 10/- per week per child.

Effect of Employment

An invalid pensioner or an age pensioner receiving additional payments for wife and/or children should check with the Social Services Department before accepting any employment. Even when rate of payment is less than £1/10/- per week, employment may result in cancellation of invalid pension and/or additional payments for wife and children.

The wife of an invalid pensioner may accept employment and still receive wife's allowance provided that she continues to live with her husband. However, the means test still applies in assessing the rates of pension and wife's allowance.

Casual Employment

Age pensioners accepting casual employment should check with the Social Services Dept. regarding their rights to continue receiving pension whilst in employment.

Effect of Property

● A pensioner may have property to the value of £200 and receive a full pension of £208 a year (£4 a week), subject to any deduction on account of income.

● The annual rate of pension is reduced by £1 for every complete £10 of net value of such property above £200 up to £1,750.

● Thus if a pensioner has property (apart from his home, etc.) valued at, say, £350, he loses £15 of the annual pension. His pension is then £193 a year (£3/14/- a week).

● A pensioner with property (apart from his home, etc.) worth £650 would lose £1 of pension for every £10 above £200. Thus he would have £45 deducted from the annual pension and would receive a pension of £163 a year (£3/2/6 a week).

● A person who has property (apart from his home, etc.) worth more than £1,750 is not entitled to receive any pension.

Husband and Wife

A pensioner couple could have £419 between them and each could receive the full pension. They would each lose only £1 of pension for every £20 of the value of their joint property (apart from a home, etc.) above £400.

If their joint property (apart from their home, etc.) is worth more than £3,000, neither is entitled to receive any pension.

Medical Benefits

All pensioners and their dependents are entitled to free general practitioner attention and medicines provided that their income from all sources including income from property does not exceed:—

£104 per annum for a single pensioner.

£208 per annum for a married couple both pensioners.

£260 per annum for a married couple where only one is a pensioner.

Summary

● An unmarried pensioner (including a widower, widow or divorcee) may own his own home and furniture, have other property valued at up to £209 and income up to £3/10/- a week and receive the full pension of £4 a week.

● A married couple, where only one is eligible for a pension, may own their own home and furniture, have between them other property valued at up to £419 and income up to £7 a week, and receive one full pension of £4 a week.

● A pensioner couple may own their own home and furniture, have between them other property valued at up to £419 and income up to £7 a week, and each receive the full pension of £4 a week.

An invalid pensioner and his wife may have their own home, furniture, etc., other property valued at up to £419 and income of £7 a week plus 10/- a week for each child, and still receive pension of £4 a week, plus wife's allowance of £1/15/- a week plus child's allowance of 11/6 a week for the youngest child and additional pension of 10/- a week for all other children.

FIRST AID ON ELECTRIC SHOCK

THIS is an emergency which calls for prompt and intelligent action—prompt action if the patient's life is to be saved, intelligent action where the patient is still in contact with a live conductor, if two casualties instead of one are to be avoided.

If a patient is still in contact with a live conductor, before attempting to free him switch off the current if possible. If the switch cannot be found quickly the patient should be freed from contact without delay, the procedure varying as follows:

● Take precautions against receiving an electric shock yourself in handling the patient by the use of some dry insulating material such as a pair of rubber gloves, a cap, a coat or other dry material. Avoid direct contact with the patient's skin or any part of his clothing which may be damp, e.g., under the armpits. A dry crooked wooden stick may be useful, but an umbrella is not suitable owing to the metal ribs and in some cases the metal "stick" of the umbrella. A length of dry rope is another alternative. If possible, it is also a good precaution to stand on dry insulating material such as a rubber mat, linoleum, thick carpet or mat. Where the supply to the live conductor involved is through a flexible cable the current may be cut off by removing the plug or even breaking the cable by pulling on it. Do not attempt to cut the cable with a knife or scissors.

TREATMENT

● In cases of electric shock the patient is usually unconscious and the act of breathing is wholly or partially suspended. In addition electric shock, particularly at the higher voltages, is often accompanied by burns which may be very severe.

● Unless the patient is breathing normally immediately commence artificial respiration.

SEND FOR A DOCTOR OR THE AMBULANCE.

Treat any burns after breathing is restored, by covering them with a clean dry dressing.

Keep the patient warm.

NOTE:—In electric shock, artificial respiration must be continued perseveringly until natural breathing is restored, unless a Doctor decides that further efforts will be of no avail.

MEMBERS HAVE VOTING RIGHTS IN LABOR PARTY PLEBISCITES

FOR some time now our Union has been affiliated to the Australian Labor Party (State of Queensland) and we have three delegates on the Queensland Central Executive of the Australian Labor Party.

Our affiliation to the Labor Party means among other things that financial members of our Union are eligible to vote in all plebiscites conducted by the Labor Party to select candidates for elections and the Labor-in-Politics Convention. Such Conventions are held every three years, the last being at Mackay in 1956, but they may also be specially called at any time.

● A person entitled to vote in a Labor Party plebiscite whether for elections or convention purposes must be a financial member of not less than six months standing in an affiliated Union prior to the date of closing of nominations for selection.

Such a person must also be enrolled on the roll for the electorate for which the plebiscite is being taken.

When a person claims a vote at a plebiscite he must furnish to the Presiding Officer in charge of the plebiscite evidence of financial membership in his Union. A Union badge is not evidence of financial membership, the only evidence being a current membership ticket in the particular Union.

● Since B.W.I.U. dues are payable in advance it is necessary for you to take along when voting in the plebiscite not only the current O.K. card and receipt but also the previous O.K. card and receipt.

● MAKE SURE THAT THE OFFICIAL RECEIPTS SHOWING THE MONEY THAT YOU HAVE PAID ARE ATTACHED TO YOUR O.K. CARDS.

● REMEMBER ALWAYS THAT YOU CAN VOTE ONLY IF YOU ARE FINANCIAL.

LONG SERVICE LEAVE PROGRAM

BELOW is a program around which all building workers should unite and struggle in order to improve their long service leave rights. For this program clearly outlines what building trade workers need and want.

● Long Service Leave should be paid to all building trade workers irrespective of the number of employers they may have. At present long service leave payments are based on service with a particular employer and not with the building industry.

● Long Service Leave should, as under the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act, commence after 8 years employment and three (3) months long service leave should be granted for between 8 and 12 years service.

● For service of not less than 12 years and not more than 15 years, 4 months long service leave should be granted as provided for under the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act.

● For 15 years service and beyond, 4½ months long service leave should be granted, with an additional 9 days per year added for each year of service in excess of 15 years, again as provided for under the Commonwealth Employees Furlough Act.

New Wage Rates from January 27, 1958

The 3/- Basic Wage adjustment (see other side) should be not less than 50/- with real control of prices. We lodged a claim on December 12, 1957, for an interim (or first) increase of 20/- in the basic wage pending a full hearing.

Our affidavit showed details of recent price increases in meat, flour, eggs, fish, breakfast foods, fruit and RENTS, amounting to more than 20/-.

Our affidavit filed in the Court on December 12, 1957, declared that the Unions believe that a "State of Emergency" exists with regard to the Cost of Living and the low Basic Wage.

● The Court has not yet set down a date of hearing of our claim.

● You should support our application in every way.

The Building Trade Award

Our claim for important improvements to our Award plus a wage increase of £3 in our margin has been set down for hearing on March 13, 1958.

This claim like that of an increased basic wage, can only be won by unity in action of all workers.

Will you please help!

THE BUILDING WORKERS' INDUSTRIAL UNION

L. R. Randall,
President

G. M. Dawson,
State Secretary

Latest Compensation Rates are: Single man or married man without dependents £9/15/-; add £2/10/- for dependent wife and 15/- for each dependent child.

WITH YOUR UNION'S COMPLIMENTS

This valuable Award and Information Book – the only one of its type issued by a Queensland union (indeed by any union), comes to you as yet another B.W.I.U. Service. It has been entirely compiled by the officers of your union after consultation with hundreds of members on what you thought should be in the Book.

Into the Book has gone the not inconsiderable and accumulated experience of the Union's officers. Officers who for years now have done everything they possibly could to advance the interests of our membership and of workers generally.

May your reading of the Book be as enjoyable and as useful as our experience in compiling it!

The Building Workers' Industrial Union.

L. Randall, President.

G. M. Dawson, Secretary.

The S.M.C. may appoint Temporary Organisers for a period not exceeding six (6) months; the duties of Organisers to be determined by the S.M.C.

2. Any Sub-Branch may, subject to the consent of the S.M.C., appoint a local Organiser for a period of not exceeding six months. An amount equal to 10 per cent of the previous half-year's income may be used for this purpose. This amount may be subsidised by the S.M.C. on application by the Sub-Branch.

RULE 21

3. No tool claim shall be paid in money, although it shall not be imperative for any Sub-Branch to supply members with similar tools to those which have been lost, provided that the value of the tools supplied does not exceed the amount required in order to replace the lost tools. If the lost tools are recovered, the new ones shall be returned to the Sub-Branch to be disposed of at the discretion of the Sub-Branch.

Reporting Loss

4. Members claiming shall report the loss at the police station nearest to the job, and shall obtain the signature of the police officers on a form provided by the Branch Secretary as an acknowledgement of such report. The Sub-Branch Secretary shall ascertain from the police whether such loss has been reported.

5. Members claiming this benefit shall produce their name stamp in one piece, or its impress, and affirm in writing that the tools are duly stamped with the same. Such name stamp shall consist of claimant's surname, and at least one initial. In the case of tools composed entirely of steel or iron, the member must affirm that the tools bore his private mark by which identification is possible, provided that at all times the Sub-Branch Committee, with the instruction of the Sub-Branch, may determine when the question of the possession of a name stamp shall not prevent the payment of a tool claim.

Tool Benefit—Registration of Name Stamp

6. All tool claims shall be subject to revision by the State Management Committee where deemed necessary, and any claimant for such benefit shall first of all have his name stamp registered with the S.M.C.; such to be done through his Sub-Branch.

FUNERAL ALLOWANCE

1. The Union shall pay out of its funds a funeral allowance to the representatives of deceased members who have been members for a period of twelve months. On the death of a member who does not owe more than one half-year's contributions, a sum of money in accordance with the appended scale of funeral allowances shall be paid to his widow, next of kin, or nominee, or whomsoever may, in the opinion of the Union, prove to have an equitable claim to it, provided that at the time of such member joining the Union he was not over fifty (50) years of age. Provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any member who joined the Union prior to its amalgamation. In the event of a member dying, and there being no widow, next of kin, or nominee discovered to whom the Union may deem it just to pay the funeral allowance, the Union shall defray the cost of decent interment of the remains of such a member, and should the circumstances of such a case induce the Union to inter the remains and a claimant to the funeral allowance afterwards arise and prove his or her claim, the Union shall deduct from the amount of such claim, all the expenses it may have been put to on account of the interment, and pay the balance, if any, to the claimant.

(b) Any member acting in a disorderly manner during a meeting or acting in opposition to the rule of the Presiding Officer, may be fined a sum not exceeding 20/- and should he persist, the Presiding Officer shall have power to call on the members to expel him from such meeting until such time as the fine is paid and an apology is tendered for such conduct.

(c) A member shall not take any grievance in which he is personally concerned to any person or persons outside the Union prior to the case being dealt with by the responsible body, in accordance with these Rules.

(d) It shall be competent for the State Management Committee to inflict a fine not exceeding £2, suspend from benefit, or expel any member from the Union upon satisfactory proof being given that such member has refused to comply with their decision, or acting contrary to the interests of the Union, or who has by his conduct brought the Union into discredit, or has wilfully violated the recognised trade rules of the district in which he is working.

RULE 17

Any member or officer who is fined for any offence under these Rules shall pay the fine on or before the date of the meeting of his Sub-Branch immediately following the imposition of the fine. Should the fine not be paid it shall at once be added to the member's dues by the Sub-Branch Secretary, and shall be deducted from any money paid by the member as contributions or may be recovered by legal process.

They shall be nominated and elected by the members under the jurisdiction of the State M.C.

When District Organisers are to be elected they may be nominated by any Sub-Branch within the State in which the district is situated, but shall be elected by the members of the Sub-Branches within the district in which the District Organiser is to operate.

State Organisers may be elected and remain in office for a period of three years, provided that if the funds are insufficient to meet the half-yearly expenditure, their services may be temporarily dispensed with at the discretion of the S.M.C.

The S.M.C. may appoint Temporary Organisers for a period not exceeding six (6) months; the duties of Organisers to be determined by the S.M.C.

2. Any Sub-Branch may, subject to the consent of the S.M.C., appoint a local Organiser for a period of not exceeding six months. An amount equal to 10 per cent of the previous half-year's income may be used for this purpose. This amount may be subsidised by the S.M.C. on application by the Sub-Branch.

RULE 21

SHOP STEWARDS:

For the convenience of members, Shop or Job Stewards may be appointed by Sub-Branches within the district under their control.

Should any Shop or Job Steward be victimised, or be reasonably supposed to be victimised, from carrying out any duties to the Union, the S.M.C. shall take all necessary steps to see that the member is compensated for any loss he may incur.

RULE 22

TOOL BENEFIT:

1. All members who have been in the Union for twelve (12) months and are financial at the time of such loss, shall be entitled to compensation for tools lost by fire, theft, or in any other way that, in the opinion of the Sub-Branch Committee, will entitle them to benefit, to the amount of twenty pounds (£20) in any one claim, but no claim for Tool Benefit shall be entertained if it be under twenty-five shillings (25/-).

2. The maximum amount payable to any member for Tool Benefit shall not exceed twenty pounds (£20) in any period of 12 months.

Not Paid in Money

3. No tool claim shall be paid in money, although it shall not be imperative for any Sub-Branch to supply members with similar tools to those which have been lost, provided that the value of the tools supplied does not exceed the amount required in order to replace the lost tools. If the lost tools are recovered, the new ones shall be returned to the Sub-Branch to be disposed of at the discretion of the Sub-Branch.

Reporting Loss

4. Members claiming shall report the loss at the police station nearest to the job, and shall obtain the signature of the police officers on a form provided by the Branch Secretary as an acknowledgement of such report. A properly priced list shall be lodged with the Sub-Branch Secretary within seven days accompanied by a statutory declaration signed by a Justice of the Peace. The Sub-Branch Secretary shall ascertain from the police whether such loss has been reported.

Name Stamp

5. Members claiming this benefit shall produce their name stamp in one piece, or its impress, and affirm in writing that the tools are duly stamped with the same. Such name stamp shall consist of claimant's surname, and at least one initial. In the case of tools composed entirety of steel or iron, the member must affirm that the tools bore his private mark by which identification is possible, provided that at all times the Sub-Branch Committee, with the instruction of the Sub-Branch, may determine when the question of the possession of a name stamp shall not prevent the payment of a tool claim.

6. All tool claims shall be subject to revision by the State Management Committee where deemed necessary, and any claimant for such benefit shall first of all have his name stamp registered with the S.M.C.; such to be done through his Sub-Branch.

Loss By Enemy Action

7. Nothing in this Rule shall render the Union liable to compensate any person for loss of any tools by him as a result of enemy or belligerent action.

RULE 28

FUNERAL ALLOWANCE

1. The Union shall pay out of its funds a funeral allowance to the representatives of deceased members who have been members for a period of twelve months. On the death of a member who does not owe more than one half-year's contributions, a sum of money in accordance with the appended scale of funeral allowances shall be paid to his widow, next of kin, or nominee, or whomsoever may, in the opinion of the Union, prove to have an equitable claim to it, provided that at the time of such member joining the Union he was not over fifty (50) years of age. Provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any member who joined the Union prior to its amalgamation. In the event of a member dying, and there being no widow, next of kin, or nominee discovered to whom the Union may deem it just to pay the funeral allowance, the Union shall defray the cost of decent interment of the remains of such a member, and should the circumstances of such a case induce the Union to inter the remains and a claimant to the funeral allowance afterwards arise and prove his or her claim, the Union shall deduct from the amount of such claim, all the expenses it may have been put to on account of the interment, and pay the balance if any, to the claimant.

2. Scale of Funeral Allowances:—On the death of a financial member who has been a member of the Union for twelve (12) months, the funeral allowance shall be one pound (£1), and shall increase at the rate of one pound (£1) per annum, the maximum to be twenty pounds (£20).

BUILDING WORKERS INDUSTRIAL UNION OF AUSTRALIA - QUEENSLAND BRANCH

AMALGAMATED SOCIETY OF CARPENTERS AND JOINERS OF AUSTRALASIA - QUEENSLAND BRANCH

ALTERATION OF RULES

SINCE the May 1960 State Delegate Convention there have been a number of changes to the Union's rules, all of which have been constitutionally carried.

(a) THE CHANGES TO THE RULES carried by the May 1960 State Delegate Convention are included in the Rule Book in the Delegates folders. This Rule Book was re-printed with all alterations registered up to August 1960.

(b) DURING JANUARY 1961 and by a majority vote (that is by more than a two-thirds majority) of the Delegates to the 1960 State Delegate Convention, the following new paragraph was added to Rule 10 State Management Committee Clause 25.

"The property and finance of the Branch shall be vested in the names of the three trustees. The funds of the Branch shall be banked in the manner prescribed in Rule Six (6). On a written authority, signed by the Branch President and the Branch Secretary, any two of the three trustees shall sign cheques for such sums as may be voted by the State Management Committee Executive in accordance with these Rules. Such cheques to be countersigned by the Branch Secretary.

The trustees shall have all powers and immunities conferred on such trustees by Trade Union Acts."

This change in Rule 10 Clause 25 was necessary to meet the requirements of Federal Registration and it was subsequently registered by the Industrial Registrar to the State Industrial Court.

* It will be noted further on that the Clause above has again been changed slightly; this to meet additional requirements of Federal Registration.

(c) IN FEBRUARY 1961 the membership in a postal ballot and by a large majority of those voting, voted:

To Change Rule 4, Contributions to provide for contributions of £3. per half year;

To Change Rule 22, Tool Benefit to provide a maximum of £30. in any one claim and year;

To Change Rule 23, Funeral Allowance to provide a maximum allowance of £25. with the present Funeral Allowance of 20/-d. per annum being raised to 25/-d. per annum.

These changes to the Rules, although carried by a big majority of the membership who voted have not yet been registered by the Industrial Registrar to the State Industrial Court. Delegates are aware of the reason for this.

(d) DURING FEBRUARY 1962 the Delegates to the 1960 State Delegate Convention, by a more than two-thirds majority vote, made minor changes to a number of Union Rules. ALL OF THESE CHANGES WERE TAKEN ON THE ADVICE OF THE UNION'S FEDERAL LEGAL ADVISORS, AND AFTER RECEIVING THE CONSENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH INDUSTRIAL REGISTRAR, AND THEY WERE ALL ESSENTIAL TO MEET THE REQUIREMENTS OF FEDERAL REGISTRATION AND TO MEET OBJECTIONS TO SUCH REGISTRATION.

- 16th May, 1962.

TYPES OF AMENDMENTS: There are four types of amendments proposing different procedures:

1. To leave out certain words

2. To leave out certain words in order to insert or add others

3. To insert or add certain words (our famous addendum).

4. To leave out all the words after the first word "that" and, to substitute others with a different meaning.

AMENDMENTS: Several amendments may be moved to the same original motion, but each one must be moved, seconded and discussed separately. They may be withdrawn only under the same conditions which apply to motions. Only one amendment can be placed before the meeting at any one time, and each one must be disposed of before the next one is debated. All amendments are voted on before the motion is put to the vote.

CONTENT OF AMENDMENTS: Amendments must not conflict with decisions already made. They must be relevant to the subject matter of the original motion, and not introduce extraneous ideas. They must not be frivolous, and make nonsense of the motion by leaving out a vital section.

They must not be a direct negative, but they may offer an alternative proposal, which differs entirely in policy from the original motion, unless it is a motion on notice.

POINT OF ORDER - WHEN RAISED: A point of order should be raised immediately the suspected breach occurs. When someone rises to a point of order, the member speaking should resume his seat till the question is settled, and the time occupied by this procedure should not be counted in the speaking time allotted to him.

POINT OF ORDER - HOW TO BE PUT: The member making the point of order should put it in the form of a question. He should rise and say: "Mr. Chairman, is it in order that the speaker.....?" He should state his objections briefly, and not make a speech.

POINTS OF ORDER - GROUNDS:

1. That the offending speaker is going beyond the scope of the question.

2. That he is using offensive language.

3. That he is breaking some rule of the society.

4. That he is infringing standing orders or some accepted rule of debate.

POINTS OF ORDER - MUST NOT BE MISUSED: Members cannot take a point of order merely because the speaker says something they object to, or that they consider incorrect.

POINTS OF EXPLANATION: If a member's remarks are misquoted, or grossly distorted, he may rise, and ask permission of the Chairman to make a point of explanation. He should confine himself to correcting the statements wrongly attributed to him, and not proceed to make a speech.

A point of explanation is only made by courtesy of the Chairman and of the meeting, and this procedure should only be used to clear up vital questions.

A point of explanation must not interrupt another speaker.

Anyone who defies the orders of the Chair and continues to disrupt the meeting, should be NAMED BY THE CHAIRMAN and ordered to withdraw from the meeting, or otherwise dealt with according to rules.

WHAT IS MEANT BY "AN OFFENSIVE EXPRESSION?": "An offensive expression" means offensive words used with reference to another member, or words used that are considered objectionable by the Chairman. These include:

"The imputation of bad motives; misrepresenting the language of another, or accusing him in his turn of misrepresentation; charging him with falsehood or deceit; or contemptuous or insulting language of any kind.

All offensive words must be withdrawn, and upon an ample apology being made which shall satisfy both the meeting and the member to whom offence has been given.

USE OF AN OFFENSIVE EXPRESSION: If the offensive expression is not at once withdrawn when ordered by the Chairman, the Chairman should declare the offending member guilty of disorderly conduct, and require the meeting to deal with him.

A member of an organised body declared guilty of disorderly conduct may be punished, on resolution of the meeting:

(1) By being ejected from the meeting

(2) By being suspended for a fixed period from attending meetings, or until he offers a satisfactory apology.

(3) By being fined.

SHOULD THE CHAIRMAN OMIT TO NOTICE USE OF AN OFFENSIVE EXPRESSION:

On default of the Chairman a member may move that the words be taken down. This is a motion that must be moved at once, or when the member using the words has resumed his seat, but before any other member addresses the Chair.

The member who desires words to be taken down must repeat the words to which he objects, and state them exactly as he conceives them to have been spoken.

When the motion has been moved, the Chairman will ask: "Is it the pleasure of the meeting that the words be taken down?". Should the meeting decide that the words shall be taken down the Chairman will give the necessary order, or take down the words himself. The words having been taken down, the offender is held to be guilty of disorderly conduct; and the Chairman will then call on some member to move a motion in regard to the offence.

VOTING: Voting will be by the voices, or by show of hands, unless a division is demanded and such demand is supported by at least one-third of the members present at the meeting.

A QUESTION should be straight to the point and not a speech.

McGRATH HOMES

The name of McGrath is well known in the Bundaberg district as the original company started off by Jack McGrath, who was a Real Estate Agent, Valuer and Registered Tax Agent, commenced business in the 1930's.
Mr McGrath maintained an association with the company for over 30 years until he and his wife sold out and retired when a new company was formed in 1961.
W. J. McGrath and Co. Pty Ltd still remains the name of the parent company and all trading is done under the name of McGrath Homes.
From 1961 to 1965 the company steadily grew but still the emphasis remained on the Real Estate operation.
The year 1965 proved to be the start of a boom period for McGrath Homes, which is still continuing today, 11 years later. The Directors decided to expand the scope of operations by becoming involved in the home construction field — the main aim being to provide a complete and efficient service for the new home buyer.
In order to facilitate such a service a Building Display Centre was organised in which prospective home buyers could wander through and inspect a wide variety of building products and materials and ultimately select them for the home of their choice.
In addition McGrath Homes set up an individual design section not only to provide plans of a standard nature for company use, but also to assist customers in Bundaberg and its surrounding districts who had their own ideas but no knowledge of either Council By-Laws or how to put their ideas on paper.

In a ballot by the preferential system the valid ballot papers shall be separated into separate parcels, each such parcel containing all those papers on which a first preference is indicated for the same candidate.

If on the first count a candidate receives an absolute majority of first preference votes of total valid votes cast the candidate shall be declared elected.

5 - ENTRANCE FEES

Applicants for membership of Construction and General Division shall pay on application an entrance fee in accordance with Divisional Branch rules.

6 - CONTRIBUTIONS

7 - SPECIAL MEMBERS

1. The Divisional Executive or the Divisional Branch Executive may fix a special or different rate of contribution and/or entrance fee for any class of members and any member within that class shall, on compliance with those conditions and subject to any rule, other than rules 5 and/or 6, be entitled to all the benefits of membership.

2. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such grounds may include:

   (a) absence from Australia;

   (b) inability to carry on a member's vocation or calling through illness or injury;

   (c) unemployment

   (d) without being limited by any of the foregoing, any other hardship, or prejudice or disadvantage;

   (e) periods on workers' compensations or on any injury which, in the view of the Divisional Branch Management Committee ought properly have been compensable;

8 - SUPREME GOVERNING BODY IN DIVISION

(i) The supreme governing body of the Division shall be the Divisional Conference.

(ii) The Divisional Conference shall consist of delegates including full time Divisional Officers elected as delegates. Provided that Divisional Branch Secretaries by virtue of being elected as such shall automatically be the Divisional Branch delegate or one of the Divisional Branch delegates to Divisional Conference.

Provided further that existing elected officers of the Divisional Executive who are retiring from office and who have not been re-elected as delegates to Divisional Conference shall be entitled to attend the Divisional Conference which elects their successors and shall be entitled to all rights of a Conference delegate other than nominating and voting on any matter. Further provided that, if not otherwise a delegate to Divisional Conference by virtue of this sub-clause, members of the Divisional Executive shall, ipso facto, be delegates to the Divisional Conference and treated, in all respects, as delegates in the same way as any other member of the Divisional Executive.

Provided that any Delegate to the Divisional Conference from a Divisional Branch that has more than one quarterly capitation payment outstanding to the Divisional Office as at the date of any meeting of the Divisional Conference, shall not be entitled to attend any Divisional Conference (unless at the express invitation of one of the Divisional Officers), and in any event, shall not be entitled to move, amend or vote at any such meeting.

Further provided that the former members of the Federal Council of the Operative Painters and Decorators Union shall, upon amalgamation, be and remain, until the general election, members of the Divisional Conference. Such persons shall remain delegates to the Divisional Conference until 2 January 1997. Thereafter, any Assistant Divisional Branch Secretary designated for Painters shall be delegates to the Divisional Conference.
Further provided that the Divisional Branch President of the integrated Divisional Branch in the State of South Australia shall be a member of the Divisional Conference.

Further provided that those persons from the former Construction Labourers, Plasterers and Painters and the Construction Workers Divisional Branches in Western Australia who were Divisional Branch Delegates to Divisional Conference immediately prior to the integration of those Divisional Branches occurring, shall be members of the Divisional Conference until 2 January, 2001.

(iv) For the purpose of this Rule the formula which shall apply to determine the number of members of a Divisional Branch shall be to divide the amount of Divisional Branch income referred to in Rule 14 (i) received each of the three years prior to the elections by the amount of the annual contribution for that year. Those amounts to be totalled then divided by three to obtain the average number of members on which the Divisional Branch is entitled to elect delegates.

Provided that where the Divisional Branch has not existed for three (3) years the divisor shall be twice the number of half years up to a maximum of six (6) that the Divisional Branch has existed and the Divisional Branch income referred to shall be for the corresponding period.

Further provided that where a Divisional Branch has been the subject of changes in its structure or membership by virtue of a restructuring in whole or part, or an amalgamation, which restructuring or amalgamation has occurred less than three years prior to the elections referred to in the first paragraph of this sub-rule, the Divisional Branch shall be treated, for the purposes of this sub-rule, as if it came into existence on the last such change in structure or amalgamation, and the calculation shall be made in accordance with the immediately preceding proviso.

The Divisional Secretary and the Divisional Assistant Secretary/s shall have the same voting and other rights as other delegates to the Conference.

The existing elected officers of the Divisional Executive shall remain in office until the election of their successors.

(v) Should any delegate die or resign or otherwise cease to be a delegate, or for any other reason a Divisional Conference delegate's position is not filled, thus causing an extraordinary vacancy, the Divisional Branch Executive of the Divisional Branch of which the member is a delegate may forthwith cause an election for another member or where the unexpired part of the term of that vacant or unfilled office does not exceed three quarters of the term of office the Divisional Branch Executive may appoint another member to be the delegate of the Divisional Branch in place of the delegate who is deceased or has resigned or otherwise ceased to be a delegate or to fill the otherwise vacant position. Provided such delegate so elected shall hold office only for the residue of the term of the predecessor.

(vi) Divisional Branches, may where elected delegates to Divisional Conference agree, arrange multiple voting representation at a Divisional Conference by notifying the Divisional Secretary prior to the beginning of the Divisional Conference of the number of delegates to be credentialled and of the arrangements for proxy voting to be adopted by that/those delegate/s to Divisional Conference.

Where a delegate is unable to attend a meeting of the Divisional Conference or any part thereof that delegate may appoint another elected delegate to Divisional Conference from the same Divisional Branch as proxy to act in his stead. Where a delegate is the only representative of a Divisional Branch and is to be absent from Divisional Conference the delegate may appoint an elected delegate from another Divisional Branch of this Division, or any other Divisional Conference member as the delegates proxy.

(vii) The method of calling nominations and the election of Divisional Branch delegates to Divisional Conference shall be under the provisions of Rule 17 of the National Rules.

Full time Divisional Officers, (Divisional Secretary, Divisional Assistant Secretaries) and Divisional President and full-time National Officers, may nominate in such elections, either in the Divisional Branch first elected from, or another Divisional Branch provided that each Divisional Officer shall notify his/her intentions in writing to the Divisional Branch Secretary concerned prior to the date of calling for nominations in such elections.

Provided further that Divisional Branch entitlement to delegates shall be increased by the number of full-time Divisional Officers and full-time National Officers nominating as Divisional Conference delegates in that Divisional Branch in accordance with this sub-clause.

(viii) Six (6) delegates shall form a quorum of the Divisional Conference.

(ix) The expenses of delegates and Divisional Officers shall be paid by the Divisional Executive as follows: First class train fare with sleeper or, alternatively, plane fare. All other expenses for delegates other than full time Divisional Officers shall be met by the Divisional Branches concerned.

(x) The Divisional Conference shall have power:

The Divisional Secretary and the Divisional Assistant Secretary/s shall have the same voting and other rights as other delegates to the Conference.

The existing elected officers of the Divisional Executive shall remain in office until the election of their successors.

Where a delegate is the only representative of a Divisional Branch and is to be absent from Divisional Conference the delegate may appoint an elected delegate from another Divisional Branch of this Division, or any other Divisional Conference member as the delegates proxy.

(vii) The method of calling nominations and the election of Divisional Branch delegates to Divisional Conference shall be under the provisions of Rule 17 of the National Rules.

Full time Divisional Officers, (Divisional Secretary, Divisional Assistant Secretaries) and Divisional President and full-time National Officers, may nominate in such elections, either in the Divisional Branch first elected from, or another Divisional Branch provided that each Divisional Officer shall notify his/her intentions in writing to the Divisional Branch Secretary concerned prior to the date of calling for nominations in such elections.
